Church Urges New Plan For Vancouver Transient Jobless

United Church Presbytery and Women's Organizations Asks Ottawa to Resume Work Programme

Men Held in Jail Are Now Eating

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—The Vancouver Presbytery of the United Church and various women's organizations of this city today appealed to federal authorities for action to aid in the problem of single unemployed men in Vancouver.

A message sent Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, by Dr. Willard Breving of the United Church Presbytery suggests "resumption of the work programme" as the best solution of the problem.

"Provincial and city authorities refuse all relief," the message said. "This committee urgently requests your department take appropriate action. Resumption of the work programme seems the best solution."

EMERGENCY DUTY

Speaking before a meeting of women's organizations here yesterday evening Mrs. D. Steves, M.P.P., said "It is not a provincial responsibility. The only practical way is to make the federal government see the men must be cared for now as an emergency duty."

RESOLUTIONS PASSED

The meeting passed a number of resolutions seeking the support of the Vancouver city council and the British Columbia government in urging the federal government to take over the relief problem.

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Single unemployed men being held in the city jail here on charges of obstructing police officers today were receiving their meals as usual following a demonstration yesterday in which they threw their food out of the windows and broke up dishes and cutlery.

Police Chief W. W. Foster said the men staged the demonstration yesterday morning in one corridor of the jail, other corridors remaining quiet and orderly.

The noon meal was served cold with no dishes, the chief said, and the men then said they were sorry, and promised to behave themselves.

GUARDS ADDED

"They were served their regular meals last night and today, and no further disturbances have occurred," he said—"we have extra guards on duty, but this is only because of the extra number of prisoners."

There was a brief outbreak of rattling of bars and shouting last night by some of the men, but it subsided quickly.

DOG DIGS UP LEG OF CHILD

Police at Trinidad, Colo., Puzzled By Origin of Amputated Limb

Associated Press

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 22.—A human leg which a dog was dragging along a roadway sent Sheriff Ray Marty and his deputies on a search today for the body of a boy or girl believed between twelve and fifteen years.

Mrs. V. E. Burson of South Garica Plaza, near Trinidad, discovered the dog dragging the leg late yesterday and notified Marty.

Marty said evidently the dog had dug the leg up somewhere in the neighborhood, and today he sent deputies searching for the "burial place." He said he had received no reports of a child or anyone else being missing.

The amputation, Coroner Ed Troupal said, had been made about seven inches above the knee and had been done within the past two or three days.

TWO COUGARS IN TEN DAYS

Miss Joan Homer of Beecher Bay Shoots Second Panther By Flashlight

Canadian Press

Miss Joan Homer who bagged a big cougar last week at Beecher Bay, near her home, accounted for another of the big cats last Sunday night to make her score stand at two in the last ten days.

While outside her home Sunday evening about 9 o'clock she heard the cattle in the pasture making a noise not usual at that time of night. She took her gun, a 450 express and flashlight and went to investigate. Just as she reached the paddock, the herd of cattle came charging into the gates with the cougar in hot pursuit.

Between Miss Homer and her hunting dog, a border collie, the chase was soon reversed, the cougar finally being treed about 200 yards from the house. A shot through the chest killed it.

Although it was not quite as large as Miss Homer's first one, it was big enough to do plenty of damage among the cattle on the farm. Five cougars have been shot in the last three months in the district.

Herb Parker of Rocky Point was responsible for the other three.

SUIT AGAINST PREMIER BLUM

French Finance Minister Included By Taxpayers in Bond Fraud Charge

Canadian Press From Havas

Paris, Oct. 22.—The National Federation of Taxpayers announced today it had filed suit against Premier Blum and Finance Minister Vincent Auriol on a charge of issuing bonds under fraudulent conditions.

"They were held responsible for the flotation of a national loan while knowing the franc was going to be devalued," the federation said.

The treasury bond issue involved was that "forced" by the Popular Front government this summer shortly after it had come to power.

The complaint, filed by J. L. Dubreuil, president of the investors' group, was based on article 405 of the French penal code, involving the public issuance of bonds under fraudulent conditions. It was claimed devaluation altered the value of the issue.

Only Light Loss at End of Day's Trading in New York; Stabilization Fund Used in France; Political Tension

Associated Press

New York, Oct. 22.—French political uncertainty, as reflected by what was described as another flow of capital from the country, caused a sharp break in the French franc here today before official control intervened to restore most of the losses.

The French monetary unit in early dealings dropped as low as 4.616 cents to the franc compared with yesterday's close of 4.65 cents to the franc, but later rallied under control operations to 4.6475 cents, a net loss of only .0025 of a cent.

Advices to bankers here indicated a certain amount of bearish speculation influenced the erratic movement of the currency, in addition to a rush to get capital into safe havens pending clarification of the situation.

MEETING WATCHED

The annual congress of the Radical Socialist Party at Biarritz today was watched with interest in view of the possibility of a decision as to future relations with the present Popular Front government might be made.

The Radical Socialists are original members of the Popular Front, but recently there has been much criticism.

Completion of Round-the-world Assignment

A reporter returning from a big assignment, H. R. Ekins, writer for the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, had just stepped into the editorial rooms of The New York World-Telegram, the starting point of his record-breaking trip around the world, and was shaking hands with Lee B. Wood (right), executive editor, when the above picture was taken. His time for the journey, setting a new speed mark for travel by facilities available to all, required but eighteen days fourteen hours fifty-six minutes, during which he covered 24,720 miles. He flew in commercial service planes all the way, with the exception of the Atlantic crossing in the dirigible Hindenburg.

Quebec Auditor Testifies Books Differ $1,150,000

E. Vezina Tells Legislative Committee of Sale of Bonds to Liquor Board; Says Ex-Deputy Attorney-General Deposited Funds in Own Name

Canadian Press

Quebec, Oct. 22.—Difference of $1,150,000 between records of the provincial auditor and books of the Quebec Treasury Department was spoken of today before the public accounts committee by Edgar Vezina, provincial auditor.

The difference, explained as a result of a sale of government bonds by the Treasury Department to the Quebec Liquor Commission, featured testimony given before the committee, which was told by the auditor that Charles Lanctot, former Deputy Attorney-General, had within six years, deposited $300,000 government funds in a bank account under the name of "Charles Lanctot in trust."

Mr. Lanctot resigned shortly before the Liberal regime of Premier L. A. Taschereau was defeated at the polls.

Auditor Vezina, summoned as a witness, was asked by Premier Duplessis:

"Will you tell the committee if Charles Lanctot, former Deputy Attorney-General, deposited in his own name money belonging to the province?"

"Yes," the auditor replied. "He deposited over a period of five or six years a sum of $300,000 which was deposited in the name of Charles Lanctot in trust, in Caisse d'Economie (savings bank)."

"What were those moneys?" asked the Premier.

"It was the fund for the administration of justice."

Boys and Girls Come to Island

Twenty-eight From England Cross From Vancouver to Fairbridge Farm Near Duncan

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Twenty-eight boys and girls, most of them from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, arrived in Vancouver today en route to their new home at the Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan, Vancouver Island.

Twenty-seven of them decided that it was a bit of all right. The other youngsters—a frowning young man of perhaps ten—seemed quietly and tried to climb back on the train, giving his opinion of Vancouver, other children, pullman porters and the world at large, in a stage whisper as he went.

The children were met by Col. Harry T. Logan, principal of the school, who gravely introduced himself to each of the fourteen boys and fourteen girls.

After a sight-seeing tour of the city, the children were put aboard the steamer Princess Elaine for Nanaimo.

Soviet Now Yielding to British-French Moves For Non-intervention

Latest News from Moscow Says Russia Will Not Bolt from "Hands-off Spain" Committee at its Crucial Meeting in London Tomorrow; Soviet Spokesman Expected to Challenge Germans to Prove Their Charges Russia Sent Arms to Madrid Loyalists

Associated Press

Moscow, Oct. 22.—Franco-British pressure may prevent Russia from making an immediate bolt from the "Hands-off Spain" committee, informed sources said tonight.

These persons cited five reasons for predicting a "second thought" delay in departing from the Non-intervention Committee at its meeting in London tomorrow. They were:

1. Developments indicated the British may be forced to take a firmer stand toward breaches in the non-intervention agreement.

2. France is believed to have told Moscow to go slowly if it does not want to alienate the two powerful European democracies, Britain and France, who are not yet prepared to act in the Spanish question.

CATALAN DEFENCE

3. Reports from Spain indicated that even if Madrid should fall, the government cause will not be lost because government leaders can retire to Barcelona, solidify their defence and hold out indefinitely.

4. Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff brought wiser counsel to bear here to slow up those who wanted to start helping Madrid immediately.

5. The government discovered it would not be wise to emulate Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini by walking out of a meeting in which it still desires to have a voice in order to denounce alleged Fascist non-intervention violations.

TO CHALLENGE PROOF

For these reasons, many believed the Soviet spokesmen at London tomorrow would call on the Germans to prove their charges that Russia has been sending arms to Madrid disguised as food shipments.

Associated Press

London, Oct. 22.—Swift German and Italian counter-activity, in the event Soviet Russia makes good her threat to bolt the Spanish neutrality pact, was forecast by informed quarters today.

With Fascist-Leslie wrangling over non-intervention rapidly nearing a climax, collapse of the "hands-off Spain" accord appeared imminent.

The Soviet denunciation, informed sources said, might not be delayed beyond the next meeting of the Non-intervention Committee, to be called by the Earl of Plymouth, chairman, for tomorrow.

Immediately on Russia's withdrawal, it was said, Germany and Italy would plunge into counter-measures to offset any aid dispatched by Moscow to hard-pressed Madrid.

(Dispatches yesterday from the Soviet capital said Dictator Joseph Stalin was prepared to send 100 war planes to Madrid in the event of a rupture.)

German charges accuse Russia of having already sent more than food to Madrid—namely, planes, guns and ammunition.

REPLY FROM ITALY

An Italian reply to Russian charges of neutrality breaches is expected a few hours before the Non-intervention Committee meets at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

This, like Germany's note, will deny the Soviet accusations, and make counter-charges, it is understood.

Portugal has not yet indicated when its reply to the Russian charge that it is a part of entry for Spanish Fascist arms may be expected.

SHIPS NAMED

The German charges concerning munition shipments disguised as food, it was understood, cited the recent trips from Russia to Spain of the steamships Neva and Kuba.

It was announced in Russia that these vessels carried only food, but the Germans—and previously Dime Grandi, the Italian ambassador at London—alleged they carried hand grenades, munitions and tanks to Spain.

In its note yesterday to the committee, according to an informed source, (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Madrid Railway Station Bombed

Canadian Press from Havas

CHINESE HELD FOR SLAYING

Vancouver Man Charged By Police With Murder of Quon Quan, Informer

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Ho Fat-chung, diminutive forty-seven-year-old Vancouver Chinese, was charged by police early today with the murder of Quon Quan, Chinese police informer who was shot down on a crowded Chinatown street here on the night of October 15.

Ho Fat, for whom police have held a warrant since October 18, was taken into custody without a struggle last night by Detectives Edward Morris and C. C. Owens when they observed him walking along an east end street.

WITNESSES HEARD

Taken to police headquarters, the suspect sat placidly smoking his pipe while department heads interviewed witnesses of the shooting. He was later interviewed through an interpreter and then formally charged.

Police said a lineup would probably be held today when witnesses of the crime would attempt to identify the suspect.

Authorities said that although it was at first believed two men were responsible for the shooting, they were now convinced that only one was implicated in the actual murder.

Ho Fat appeared in police court later today and was remanded for a week.

NEW BOMBERS FOR CANADA

Planes Bought in Britain Are Assembled at Field in Ontario

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The Royal Canadian Air Force now is receiving new equipment recently purchased in England, at a total cost of more than $500,000. Two of seven Shark bombing planes have arrived and are now being assembled at the Rockcliffe Air-drome, and the other five are on the way. These machines cost $84,890 each.

The bombers might be said to be the first real war machines bought by Canada since the Great War. They are the latest type of fighting machine and similar to many purchased by the British government in recent weeks. With a maximum speed of 175 miles an hour, they are capable of staying seven hours in the air.

In addition to the bombers, ten planes are being made for the force at Fort Erie, Ont., at a cost of about $6,000 each. They will be used for training of beginners in the force.

Premier to See Crowning of King

In provincial circles, it is expected Premier Pattullo will attend the coronation of King Edward in May of next year as representative of British Columbia.

At the coronation of the late King George the premiers of all Canadian provinces were invited, and Ottawa reports indicate that the same procedure will be followed on this occasion. The formal invitations have not been sent out, but preparations for a large Canadian contingent to attend the ceremony are now a matter of discussion in the national capital.

Coal Output Up By One-quarter

Vancouver Island coal production in September gained nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding month of last year, adding to monthly increases recorded during the last six months, according to the bulletin of the chief inspector of mines for the month.

Output from the island diggings is placed at 56,742 tons compared with 45,471 tons last year.

In the province as a whole the production was 104,190 tons, for an increase of 16 per cent over last year's output of 90,658 tons.

URGE CENTRAL PENAL SYSTEM

Halifax, Oct. 22.—Centralization of the Canadian penal system under one authority was suggested today in a brief submitted by the Halifax branch of the Prisoners' Welfare Association to the royal commission investigating penal conditions.

It was the first Halifax sitting of the commissioners, Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault of the Quebec Superior Court and R. W. Craig, K.C., former Attorney-General of Manitoba.

The association recommended reduction of the minimum sentence to the penitentiary from two years to one. There should be application of the League of Nations' standard minimum rules in provincial and municipal as well as federal penitentiaries, the brief said.

It suggested limiting to 500 the number of convicts in any penitentiary; graduation of status of penitentiaries; visiting committees with advisory functions and technical training for prison officials.

TEST VALIDITY OF DEBT CUTS

Alberta Legislation Attacked in Notice of Motion Filed in Provincial Supreme Court on Behalf of Estate of Late Edmonton Citizen

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Oct. 22.—Validity of the Alberta government's debt reduction legislation may be tested in the Alberta Supreme Court if a notice of motion filed today in the court is taken to trial.

Two Edmonton lawyers, R. D. Tighe and E. B. Wilson, gave notice today that they would apply to the court for an order to set aside the debt reduction legislation. The notice was filed in the name of the estate of A. E. Meyer, formerly of Edmonton, who died at one time lived in Quebec, Ont., and until 1921 was superintendent of experimental farms in Alberta.

The eleven questions set out in the notice of motion involve management of the Meyer estate in the light of the Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act, passed at the special session of the Alberta Legislature in August. The eleventh question reads: "Should the executors in the administration of this estate have regard to the provisions of the Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act or disregard the same?" This question, it is claimed, goes directly to the validity of the act.

MORTGAGES LEFT
Meyer died July 26, 1936, and, according to an affidavit signed by E. B. Wilson and filed in the court with the notice of motion, left his estate to his wife and, on her death, to his daughter. The estate consisted of thirty mortgages and two agreements for sale of Alberta farm lands.

Wilson's affidavit reads in part: "In view of the fact that the effect of the (Reduction and Settlement of Debts) Act is not only to reduce these investments by all interest accrued or paid for four years and two months, being from July 1, 1932, to September 1, 1936, but also to deprive the widow of any income from said mortgages and agreements in the future, my co-executor and I are desirous of ascertaining for our guidance in the administration of said estate as to the questions set out in the originating notice filed herein this day."

FROM JULY, 1932
The Reduction and Settlement of Debts Act was the cornerstone of the debt legislation passed by the Alberta government. Its effect was to take July 1, 1932, as a division point for debts. Debts contracted before that date were called old debts, and those contracted since were called new debts.

On old debts, it was provided that all payments of principal or interest since July 1, 1932, should be applied to reduction of principal and since that date no interest should be collected. The new principal—scaled down after deducting payments since July, 1932—was to be repaid in ten years the first installment being due November 15, 1937. The first, second and third annual installments would be 6 per cent of the new principal, the next four installments, 10 per cent each and the last three, 15 per cent.

The effect of the legislation on new debts was to reduce the maximum interest rate, computed at simple rates, to 5 per cent on every debt contracted since July 1, 1932.

The act, together with companion legislation, the Debt Adjustment Act, placed certain restrictions on legal actions under it. Practically no action against a home-owner or landowner could be launched without a permit from the Debt Adjustment Board.

Quebec Auditor Testifies Books Differ $1,150,000

The witness also said he had made an inquiry into administration of monies of the Montreal division of the provincial police, and replied "yes" when asked by the Premier if the inquiry had disclosed that "employees of the department had made false receipts and pocketed the money."

When asked to cite one specific case the auditor instance the time when "a doorman was made to sign a receipt for $600, officials telling him it was a receipt for his salary."

The auditor, in telling the committee the $1,150,000 difference in the records of the auditing and treasury departments had arisen from the sale of government bonds to the liquor commission, said the transaction was not shown on the treasury records.

SEALS ON VAULT
The auditor also told the Premier that government seals had been placed on treasury vaults, not for reasons of fire hazard (the reason Mr. Duplessis said was given him when the matter was brought up in the Legislature), but because "certain employees in the Treasury Department were using government documents for their own use."

Vezina said he had made this discovery when one of his assistants accompanied "Mr. Taylor, assistant to the Assistant Provincial Treasurer" to a vault and saw him take "some documents out of his pocket and shove them into the second shelf for the other bonds."

Taylor, the auditor replied to Mr. Duplessis, is still employed in the department.

Hostages Now In Madrid 10,000

British Planning Aid in Evacuation Learn of

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Oct. 22.—Ten thousand and hostages and prisoners are held in Madrid. They include 1,500 women. These figures, received by the British government today, are larger than was first anticipated and intensify fears of a wholesale massacre should the insurgents seize the Spanish capital.

The British appeal that Madrid and Burgos, seat of the insurgent provisional government, should agree to exchange hostages, however, still remains unanswered. Two hundred British nationals still remain in Madrid. Precautions have been taken for their protection in the event of an air bombardment. Huge Union Jacks have been painted on the roof of the British Embassy.

Neighboring buildings fly the British flag. Underground shelters have been made ready.

TAKEN TO FRANCE
The agreement to exchange hostages hangs fire, but the navy already is engaged on its errand of mercy. Within the past few days British destroyers have picked up about 300 women and children in Bilbao and conveyed them to St. Jean de Luz, France.

FRENCH AID
Paris, Oct. 22.—Spanish government officials who wish to leave Madrid—as well as terror-stricken refugees—will be evacuated by French warships, informed sources predicted today. The French vessels prepared to steam toward Alicante, on the Mediterranean, to effect the evacuations, the offer of which the Madrid government officially accepted last night.

source, Germany accused Soviet Russia of shipping arms to the Spanish government disguised as food, an informed source said today. The note was stated to contain seven points, in two general categories:

1. A sweeping denial of all charges that Germany had shipped arms to the Spanish insurgents.
2. Several specific dates on which, the Germans alleged, Russian arms have been transported to Spanish government ports in the guise of food shipments sent by the Russian Communist Party for the relief of destitute government supporters in Spain.

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 22.—Public anxiety over the international crisis eased today on the strength of assurance by Foreign Minister Yvon Delbois France was under no mutual obligation in the event Soviet Russia should become embroiled in war over the Spanish situation.

M. Delbois informed the Chamber of Deputies today after a committee yesterday the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact applied only in case the territory of one of the contracting parties was invaded as a result of a definite act of aggression.

MADRID SENDS OUT NEW ARMY

In deep trenches and behind improvised entanglements of barbed wire, the Madrid troops took up new positions after a weakening retreat from Navacerrada, key city of the government's defences on the Maqueda Highway.

The Socialist outposts on other fronts—Torrejon de la Calzada, Brunete and El Escorial—driven for an anticipated Fascist force to strengthen the lines before pushing ahead toward the capital.

WOMEN SHOUT APPEALS
Women and children in Madrid joined in a huge demonstration to enlist all able-bodied men in the government forces.

"It's better to be heroes' widows than cowards' wives," the feminine recruiting squads screamed during a hysterical procession led by "La Pasionaria," Communist deputy who heads the Women's Defence Committee.

PLANES DESTROYED
Destruction of two Fascist bombing planes was claimed during an air raid on the eastern coastal city of Cartagena, important government naval and aviation base.

Fascist fighting planes over the Getafe Airport, on the capital's outskirts, shot down two Socialist planes. Two government bombers escaped northward to safety.

Military reports reaching the capital from Bilbao, on the northern coast, declared insurgent bombs raised on the port of Guecho, narrowly missed British warships.

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer
With the Insurgent Troops of Gen. Jose Yanez at Navacerrada, Eighteen Miles Southwest of Madrid, Oct. 22.—The insurgent big push on Madrid gained relentless momentum today. Entrenched in this key city, captured from government defenders by shells, bombs and the steel hands of fierce Moorish troops, Gen. Valera's shock troops pulled themselves together to thrust a Fascist spearhead down the last few miles to the capital.

From the south, the little general's Toledo column began pushing its left flank up in a straight line through Illescas and Navalcarnero.

To the north, Lieut.-Col. Rada's artillery blasted historic El Escorial, seeking further to strengthen the Fascist line.

PONTON BRIDGE
The army's tactical secrecy prevented any leak concerning the next big objective, but it was plain the form which Dictator-Designate Francisco Franco intends to stab into the capital has several prongs.

This morning, trucks laden with pontoons were rushed up to replace a bridge over the Guadarrama River just sixteen miles southwest of Madrid, blasted by retreating government troops.

Flootons of insurgents marched southeast to "clean up" territory between two main highways to the capital before the final push is ordered.

The apparent objective of the junction movement was the advanced Fascist position north of Illescas confronting government lines at Torrejon de la Calzada on the Toledo-Madrid road. With the two forces joined, the prospective advance would become a triangular movement northward against Socialist defences on both highways.

EL ESCORIAL SHELLED
Associated Press
With the Insurgent Troops of Lt.-Col. Rada, Advancing on El Escorial, Spain, Oct. 22.—Insurgent guns at El Escorial dropped six-inch shells on the defences of El Escorial today as the drive to give the northern army a chance at Madrid gained momentum.

With Navalcarnero, to the south-east, now occupied by insurgents, it was more important than ever that El Escorial government defences be blasted out to permit a joint advance on the capital.

However, the mountainous terrain in this sector was retarding the movement of the insurgent columns and there were indications the government defence might be getting stronger.

claim of the government within the party.

BOURSE UNEASY
The Paris stock market also showed some nervousness, advice to bankers here said, with government bonds off and a general although narrow decline in prices. French bonds in New York, however, while fractionally lower, did not give evidence of a belief the situation was critical.

One indication of the feeling of uncertainty was in the widening of discount rates for francs to be delivered in the future. Today's discount of ninety-day francs was quoted at .08 of a cent below the spot rate compared with .07 of a cent yesterday, and .055 the day before.

Sales of francs in the New York market were reported small, but larger offerings were made in both Paris and London.

QUICK ACTION
Paris, Oct. 22 (Associated Press).—France's stabilization fund moved into action today for the first time as pessimism over the political situation threatened to cause a selling wave in francs.

Nervousness in financial circles over the possibility of a decision of the Radical Socialist congress to withdraw from the Popular Front—which would topple the Blum government from power—led to selling of francs in the exchange market and to a small break in the quotation for franc futures, high banking quarters said.

Entrance of the stabilization fund into the market quickly dried up the offerings, bankers said, and by the end of the afternoon there were no offers to sell.

Mr. Newlywed (after the party): "The guests didn't seem to care very much for your specially made cake, my dear."

Mrs. Newlywed (much concerned): "Don't you think so, why?"
Mr. Newlywed: "No, indeed—the grand piano's full of it."

King Plays An Old Game

Whip and Arrow, a game long played by boys in Canada and the United States, won royal favor when King Edward VIII, right, tried it recently. To a short, pliable stick is attached a short length of string. The loose end of the string is knotted to hook into a notch in a light dart. Then the dart is pulled back and whipped toward the target, as shown in panel at left. Franz Fichler-Mandort of Vienna is credited with inventing the game.

KING TO VISIT WELSH MINES

Canadian Press
London, Oct. 22.—The Monmouthshire Congregational Union, representing 10,000 members, of whom many are unemployed coal and steel workers, today expressed deep gratitude to King Edward for his intended visit to the depressed coal area in South Wales.

The union expressed the hope the King's visit will result in relief for the workless areas.

During his visit, which is expected to be made November 18 and 19, the King will travel and sleep on his train.

He may inspect conditions most miserably in the big towns but in the countryside where the depression is worse.

Wins Honors

Canadian Press
Montreal, Oct. 22.—Award of the Peterson Memorial Scholarship to Richard S. Eaton, Victoria, student-organist, was announced yesterday by McGill Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Eaton, son of Mrs. R. Eaton, 1216 Rudlin Street, in July of this year was awarded the Marian Ferguson Memorial Scholarship at the Toronto Conservatory of Music.

For some time before leaving for McGill University he was assistant organist at Christ Church Cathedral.

He won the Spurgin Cup for organ playing at the Victoria Musical Festival in 1933 and 1934.

Born in Victoria in January 1914, he has studied for five years under Stanley P. Bulley, Cathedral organist.

Charter of the old Christ Church Cathedral, he took up the organ when his voice broke.

CANDIDATES IN VANCOUVER

C. E. Thompson May Enter Field For Post of Mayor

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 22.—C. E. Thompson, chairman of the Vancouver Jubilee Committee and campaign manager for Mayor G. G. McGeer during the 1936 civic election, may be a candidate in the forthcoming mayoralty race.

"I have a big business to attend to and am not seeking the mayor's chair," Mr. Thompson said yesterday, "but if my friends can find no other suitable candidate, rather than let Mayor McGeer seek re-election unopposed by what we think a good man in the interests of the city, I will accept nomination."

He said that if any other suitable man should come forward as a candidate he would be willing to retire.

Mayor McGeer has as yet announced no plans to run again for the office.

TAYLOR IN FIELD

So far the name of only one candidate has been formally announced, that of former Mayor Louis D. Taylor, whose nomination papers were filed last Monday.

Among others whose names have been mentioned for the office are Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P.; Aldermen T. H. Kirk, W. S. Smith, G. C. Miller, J. J. McRae and L. D. McDonald; R. Row Holland, chairman of the park board; Dr. A. D. Buchanan of the Federated Ratepayers' Association and W. R. Offer, suggested as a Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate.

BROWDER GOES TO NEW YORK

Communist Candidate For U.S. Presidency Ends His Efforts at Terre Haute

Associated Press
Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 22.—Expressing disgust at his treatment after being thwarted for the second time in three weeks in his effort to deliver a campaign address here, Earl Browder, Communist candidate for the United States presidency, today was traveling toward New York. His parting verbal shot here was that he hoped "the constitution may eventually be enforced in Terre Haute."

When he left here late yesterday Browder's clothing was wrinkled, and there were spots on it where over-ripe tomatoes and ill-smelling eggs had splattered, thrown by members of a crowd of several hundred persons which blocked his entrance Tuesday evening to a radio station over which he was to have delivered a campaign speech.

Browder did not wait for a promised state police escort, but rode to the train in a taxicab, unmolested and hardly noticed.

NO INJUNCTION

Earlier yesterday Browder had lost a court decision when Judge Albert Owens denied his petition for an injunction to restrain local authorities from interfering with his speaking engagement here.

The injunction petition was filed last week, but action on it did not come until several hours after the time Browder had planned to broadcast his appeal for votes.

The injunction move was aimed at Mayor Sam Beecher, Police Chief James C. Yates and Sheriff William Baker. The police chief had jailed Browder overnight on a vagrancy charge when he came here September 30 to address a party rally and speak over the radio.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 22.—In the Northwest Territories and the Yukon members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have to be versatile. They are called on to perform duties policemen in more populous areas would never think of attempting.

The annual report of the force just made public, mentions an epidemic of measles at Providence, N.W.T., early this year and says "our detachment at that point was called on to continuously supervise the native residents and give advice on the treatment to be followed, there being no medical officer at that place."

As there are no other officers of any kind in the north the Mounties have to act as bailiffs in civil suits, serve writs and court orders and make seizures under judgments, as well as enforce the criminal law. Endless correspondence with litigants arises from the fact that outsiders do not understand conditions in the north and the difficulty of serving papers on or collecting money from a trapper who rarely is seen by another white man.

BODY CARRIED IN CELLO CASE

Mummified Child Found in Baggage Left in Paris By Former Czarist Officer

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 22.—Police records today told a tale as weird as the horror stories of Edgar Allan Poe.

A former officer of the Czar's army, the police said, walked the boulevards of Paris for twenty years carrying a violin case—one in which there was no cello, but the mummified body of a small child.

The man is now believed to be in America, according to police records. The ex-officer, known in Paris as "Count Kerkoff," which police said was not his real name, took refuge in France during the Russian revolution.

Poverty-stricken, he lived in a small hotel, seldom speaking to anybody, frequently spending whole days alone in his room, and occasionally going for a stroll in the Luxembourg or Tuileries Gardens. He always took the cello case with him.

Some months ago he moved out of the hotel owing a considerable bill, but leaving as security a trunk which he said contained valuable souvenirs. Recently he wrote the hotel keeper from America, saying he would never return.

The hotel keeper opened the trunk and in it found the cello case, buried under old Czarist uniforms. He opened the case and found the mummy.

Physicians said the child had been dead approximately twenty years—since about the time of the Russian revolution.

Ontario Suffers Cattle Losses

Goodrich, Ont., Oct. 22.—There has been unusual mortality among young cattle in the pasture fields of Huron County this autumn, due to overfeeding of second growth alfalfa, brought on by unusual growing conditions in September. One farmer in Colborne township lost seven head, and at the week-end three young steers were found dead in a Goodrich township field of wet alfalfa.

Family Willing To Divide Prize

Toronto, Oct. 21.—In a copyright story today, The Toronto Daily Star said Mrs. Annie Smith had entered the Millar will stork derby and announced that the $750,000 prize money was "too much money for any family."

Mrs. Smith and her husband would divide the prize with other families should they win. "I wouldn't take the $750,000 if I were named the winner tomorrow," The Star's story quoted Mrs. Smith as saying.

Urges No Seats For Legislators

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 22.—The way to trim governmental costs, said State Representative W. F. Haycock, is to take some of the comfort out of law-making.

Accordingly he yesterday proposed the removal of seats from the legislative chamber, forcing members to work standing up.

"This will promote short sessions as only those devoted to duty would stick on the job," he averred.

November 3 Draws Near

IN LESS THAN TWO WEEKS THE people of the United States will go to the polls either to endorse the Roosevelt administration or to change it for one headed by Governor Landon. What our neighbors do on November 3, of course, is a matter for their own political consciences. Our detached point of view inclines us to suggest that they will be doing a better job of work for themselves by confirming President Roosevelt in office than by "swapping horses" in the middle of the proverbial stream.

The chief executive's opponents appear to be digging fairly deeply into the political garbage can. A speech by one Republican spell-binder last night, however, ought to be worth thousands of votes for Mr. Roosevelt. Not only was it about the most vicious type of speech; it also was a prize-winning destructive utterance. The speaker did his best to associate the President with the lowest form of skullduggery and, in general, presented him to the radio audience as the 1936 model of a hydra-headed monster. In sharp and healthy contrast was the intimate chat from Mr. Roosevelt himself—a dignified defence of his policies and no mud.

As this is written, incidentally, there is a great deal of interest being taken in the "straw vote" conducted by The Literary Digest. In former tests this method of gauging public sentiment with regard to national issues has proved this popular weekly's uncanny accuracy. Latest returns just made public give Governor Landon an advantage. But all wagers, independent journalistic check-ups, and other "straws in the wind" indicate a win for Mr. Roosevelt. One angle on The Digest's vote is furnished in a letter to The New York Times. It was written a week ago and does not include the latest computation. We quote it:

Of course no one believes that Landon will defeat Roosevelt by the 3-2 vote indicated in The Literary Digest poll, but it is worth while to point out a specific reason, based on an examination of the figures themselves, for not accepting any such conclusion. Although Roosevelt polled 59.7 per cent of the combined Democratic and Republican vote in 1932, only 46.8 per cent of the present poll comes from those who voted Democratic in 1932, so naturally it is very one-sided.

However, it is quite easy to make a correction that appears to give real value to the poll. By taking the present total Landon vote, 713,000, and comparing it with the number whose ballots indicate that they voted Republican in 1932, 591,000, we find a Republican gain of 122,000, or one for each 4.8 ballots received from Republicans. In like manner we find a loss for the Democrats of one for each 11.8 voters in 1932. Applying these figures to the Republican vote of 15,600,000 in the 1932 election, we find an indicated Republican gain of 3,300,000, and therefore an indicated vote in 1936 of 19,100,000; while for the Democrats we find an indicated loss of 2,000,000, and a vote of 20,800,000.

Results of applying this method in close states, where the poll's figures are significant, show a remarkable parallel with the figures of the poll of the American Institute of Public Opinion. In the following table the corrected Literary Digest percentage for Roosevelt is in the first column, and the other poll's percentage in the second. It will be noted that the only large variation is in those states which the American Institute poll gives to Landon:

Maryland	55	56
Missouri	55	55
Wisconsin	53	52
South Dakota	52	48
Kansas	51.2	46
Wyoming	50.6	48
Iowa	50.5	50
Indiana	50.1	50

I believe that by applying this method to the final report of The Digest's poll a very satisfactory prophecy may be made as to the outcome of the election, provided the present disparity in the poll between rural and urban voters, to which The Digest itself has emphatically drawn attention, is corrected.

How nearly correct is this latest "straw vote" of The Digest or how far off the mark will be known only after the real votes have been counted. We in Canada naturally want the Roosevelt administration sustained for at least one very important reason—that of Canadian-United States business, now increasing from month to month under the reciprocity trading agreement negotiated by the King government with the government at Washington.

Slums in the Old Days

WE ARE TOLD THAT ANCIENT America had its crowded unhealthy tenements in Pueblo towns in the southwest and, of course, we know that this part of the continent still has its slums.

According to Dr. Harold S. Colton, a director of the Museum of Northern Arizona, slum conditions explain the mysterious downfall of once-thriving prehistoric Indians who started as farmers in scattered dwellings and ended as townsfolk huddled in terraced adobe apartment houses. Slum conditions explain deaths from infantile dysentery that plague Hopi Indians in terraced adobe apartment houses today.

Why Pueblo Indians in the southwest had a great age of prosperity and increase over a thousand years ago, and then dwindled into a shadow of their glory, all before white men came to America, has greatly puzzled anthropologists. The decline of the Pueblos has been variously explained as due to drought, to a poorly balanced diet, to repeated raids of their enemies. But Dr. Colton lays blame on bad sanitation, at least so far as northern Arizona is concerned.

"Our studies show us," Dr. Colton reports, "that the population of northern Arizona increased seven-fold between 600 A.D. and 1100 A.D. This was possible by the introduction of agriculture, together with the custom of families living in isolated houses." After 1100 A.D., these Indians changed their habits, the doctor points out. They flocked together into big, multi-storied apartment houses. There, families rubbed elbows, and bad sanitation bred sickness and death. The sociological moral is this: "Without sanitation country life is better than city life." The moral has vital importance for Indians today. Dr. Colton shows, for Navajo Indians and Hopis are living out a vivid object lesson in this very sociological principle.

Then we are informed that Navajos live in scattered one-family houses, and their tribe is multiplying rapidly. Hopis live in crowded pueblos, very much like European cities of 200 years ago, so far as sanitation is concerned, and infant mortality among Hopi children under two years of age is very great. Diseases bred by poor sewage disposal and other bad sanitary measures will continue to harass the Hopis and prevent their population from growing Navajo-fashion, until these Indians adopt sanitary measures in keeping with the crowded conditions of city life.

Get Down to Earth

IN THE NEWS AS THIS IS WRITTEN appear two views on conditions in Russia. One is from a New York woman who says in part: "There is no home life in Russia, no religion, no sentiment and no romance. How can the people be happy? They are glorified slaves—property of the government. They say they are happy, but you never see smiles on their faces. They sing, but their songs are usually sad and monotonous. Only the marching soldiers sing with energy. They mill around the streets, because many of them are crowded into one room; I was told they have to sleep in shifts. Sanitary conditions are frightful, except in the first-class hotels."

Mr. Wallace Lefaux, a prominent member of the C.C.F. party in Vancouver, has just returned from the Soviet realm. He says in part: "The change in Moscow since I was there first in 1920, is tremendous. Buildings are springing up all over the place. Street cars are there in large numbers to handle the huge population, which wasn't the case when I was there before. Food is plentiful, too, but when I say that I mean bread and cabbage and so on. Substantial foods such as they eat in that country, but not perhaps in the abundance and variety which we take for granted here. Living conditions generally are much improved."

And so it goes. In our humble opinion the best thing for people outside of Russia to do would seem to be to mind their own business. The Russians may be "glorified slaves," as the New York woman says they are. Living conditions may be generally much improved, as Mr. Lefaux says they are, but it is not much use giving the former land of the Romanoffs "absent treatment." Canada, for example, will find it more profitable to follow the policy of Great Britain and trade, to the fullest possible extent, with Russia. If she does not, our neighbor on the south will be selling to the Soviet much that this Dominion can sell.

Notes

Among the things that make you yearn to visit relatives is having your cook quit.

If he has too much to eat, he is a Conservative; if he has not enough, he is a Liberal; if it gives him dyspepsia, he is a radical.

This by-the-way: Canada's external trade at the end of September was well on the way to double the value at which it stood in the summer of 1933.

The forthcoming session of the British Columbia Legislature, we are told, will be a most dull affair. We wonder. As George Robey has been wont to say: "Yer never know."

Civilization is not dead yet—not by a long shot! There is a movement on foot among the nations—at this long last—to "humanize" warfare. Our suggestion is that an international union should be formed forthwith to organize a band of competent referees. No firing out of turn, what? Play cricket, by gad!

It required just eighteen and one-half days for Mr. H. R. Ekins of The New York World Telegram to "trot" round the globe. This was not necessarily a stunt. It was intended to show what could be done in a commercial way. How some of our old codgers would rub our eyes if we could be dropped in Victoria a hundred years from now. Notice the word "dropped!"

When the Spanish insurgents march into Madrid—or what may be left of it—what are they going to do with it? Where the government, or rebels, made the mistake, of course, was not to release all the Spanish "prisoners" who are old hands at the business of "pinching"—or trying to—things that do not belong to them.

Says a large heading in a widely-read London daily: "Gas is not the worst menace of an air raid—it's the explosive bomb." This is the view of experts. It is now for the people who pay for and suffer through wars to make up their minds just how they want to be sent into the hereafter. It should not be forgotten, by the way, that the Disarmament Conference which sat in the interests of rearmament for more than four years got itself all tangled up with the problem as to whether some misguided individual should be killed by a six-inch or an eight-inch shell!

LOOSE ENDS

Mr. Sinclair found it out for himself—Mr. Aberhart may not know the whole truth—In Syracuse they like it rough—and modern youth just doesn't understand.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PROPHETS

MR. UPTON SINCLAIR, the Socialist who almost carried California with his EPIC programme a few years ago, and is now in retirement after his failure, writes to Time magazine to answer some barbed criticism of his career. "I would rather," says Mr. Sinclair, "make a try at justice among men and fall in the try than to make the most resounding commercial success."

Herein Mr. Sinclair has stated a great truth, which all prophets, large and small, should note. Mr. Sinclair has been in the business of prophecy and reform all his life, a gallant gentleman, perhaps misguided at times, but undaunted, and he has found out the truth about this business from bitter experience. The truth is that the prophet in our modern society must expect to fail and be crucified. The public will follow him so far and then, just as he is beginning to get somewhere, it will hurt him down and stamp on him.

In fact, if you want to decide whether a man is a real prophet or just an imitation, whether he has a message or is just a political opportunist, you can safely apply this test to him—if he is the real thing, he is sure to fail and get stamped on. If he stays long in office, you can be pretty sure he is either a fake prophet or an average politician who makes no pretence at anything but practical politics.

For this reason, if you belong to the growing tribe of prophets in this country, great and small, you had better make up your mind to the inevitable—if you have the real stuff, you are sure to be nailed to the cross before you have gone far. If you like that, go ahead with prophecy. Otherwise you had better stick to business or go into politics in the ordinary way.

THE TRUTH

TIME WILL SHOW, for example, whether Mr. Aberhart is a real prophet or whether he will squirm out of his social credit prophecy and remain in office. Meanwhile, Mr. Aberhart has raised an interesting point by proclaiming that the newspapers ought to be forced to tell the truth and punished if they don't.

This sounds fine, but what is the truth? Ever since man first ventured out of their caves they have been trying to find that out and haven't succeeded yet. A thousand philosophers have tried at life but no two have ever agreed on the truth of any important aspect of life from immortality to social credit.

The newspapers certainly don't know the truth. All they can do is to publish everything that responsible persons say; what their editors think, and then let the public choose between all these conflicting opinions. The public can usually be counted on to choose the wrong one.

But when Mr. Aberhart goes ahead and licenses the press and insists on it telling only the truth, he is assuming a divinity which even he probably lacks. The trouble with such arrangements of censorship, which have been tried out in Germany and other places, is that the truth is what the ruling classes consider true. In Alberta it would be what Mr. Aberhart considers true. But history suggests that the things generally accepted as true at any one point are nearly always found to be wrong later on.

The newspapers never know what is true, but under the present arrangement, at least, they publish a lot of matter from which the public may somehow extract the truth, if it is lucky. Sometimes, by miracle, this happens.

WHAT THEY WANT

THE POST STANDARD, of Syracuse, New York, seems to understand the psychology of America better than most papers. Its recent report of an annual automobile race held in these parts is quite the most revealing and probably the most truthful news item published for a long time.

Says this brutally truthful publication: "Deprived by rain of the thrills incidental to the 100-mile automobile race, 30,000 spectators at the state fair grounds yesterday afternoon were compensated in part by six accidents, five in the motorcycle events, and one in the automobile time-trials."

It is satisfactory to know that the good people of Syracuse got something for their money.

SHIRTSLEEVES

SOMETIMES, in the course of a civilized life, you cannot escape such people as economists, politicians, and philatelists. They catch up on you when you're not looking and you have to listen to them. A philatelist caught up on me today and began to pour a long tale of woe into my defenceless ear. He told me how he had been cheated in a trade of some rare Australian stamp for some rare Newfoundland one, and how he had finally decided, after years of consideration, on the desperate step of selling off all his colonials in order to invest in Europeans, or vice versa.

I remember he was pretty hard on the Europeans. He didn't think much of them and swept the whole continent aside with scorn. He would trade all Europe, he said, for a certain obscure stamp issued in Australia.

"Yes," said the philatelist, "but what is the use? Here I've been collecting for twenty-five years and what for? Well, I thought I would build up a legacy for my boy, worth thousands of dollars, enough to start him in life. But he's twelve years old now and he doesn't care a rap for stamps. Shows no talent for them. I guess he just isn't born to it as I was, but you know what modern youth is like—no purpose in life. I dare say when I'm gone, he'll just sell the whole collection for a song after all my work. It's too bad when you come to think of it."

Yes, it is sad to think how a family can go from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in two generations; but more solemn still is the thought that perhaps the only paper securities which a man can leave his heirs are days with any assurance that they will retain their value is a collection of worthless stamps.

NEW IDEA

SOME SCIENTIST quoted in this newspaper says he has found microbes living on meteorites that fell to the earth and this seems to suggest that life originated, or at least exists on other worlds besides ours. This opens up too vast a field to be covered in the tail end of this column today, but it is quite a shock after you have come to accept the theory of Jeans and the other pundits that this earth contains the only life in the universe, a strange, freakish accident which never occurred elsewhere.

It is going to be a bad blow to science to discover that life exists elsewhere and may throbb in various forms throughout the universe. It will make all scientific calculations infinitely more difficult, just as the pundits had reduced them to such superb simplicity. I mean, if it is found that there is some sense to the universe, some plan, some reason and some purpose, then all the work of science in the last fifty years has been practically wasted, and we shall have to start all over again. It is to be hoped, indeed, that there is nothing in this dangerous new theory.

Letters to The Editor

CHANCE FOR NUMISMATIC EXPERT

To the Editor.—Could you please inform me through your paper, of which I am a subscriber, if there is any value attached to an American half dollar dated 1857? Description of coin is an eagle holding three arrows in its claws and letter O under the claws, and the inscription United States of America half dol. Opposite side of coin is a lady sitting holding what seems to be a flag and underneath 1855.

Thanking you for whatever information you can give me,
WM. McPHERSON,
3436 Bethune Avenue, Oct. 18.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

To the Editor.—May I encroach on your space in order to bring to the attention of all musical, operatic, dramatic and other organizations in the city that will be putting on entertainments during the ensuing season a matter which I suggest and which I have mentioned to several who will be interested and who heartily concur with my views.

All organizations, I feel sure, realize the difficulties they experience in arranging dates for their productions which will not clash with others, owing to there being no registration bureau where such dates can be registered immediately and where full information can be gained as to possibly conflicting dates.

I understand something of this sort was mooted some two years ago, but that nothing practical was done.

Such a bureau I think should be centrally located, and I am personally prepared to undertake the necessary time to keep such records complete and up-to-date, but of course to do this I must have the hearty and kindly co-operation of all organizations.

All that will be necessary is, when a tentative date is being set, for the proper official to get in touch with me, and register the date or ascertain from me whether any other organization has already registered for the same date or close to it.

I shall be glad of suggestions, but if my offer meets with the approval of those interested I am prepared to start such an information bureau at once, and I can be got in touch with by calling at, or phoning to the Kent Piano Company, 641 Yates Street, or by phoning my private residence, E 4848.

I would suggest that those whose business it is to bring artists to the city should also register dates with me as soon as they are known.

HERBERT KENT.

SINGLE CURSENESS? From The Stratford Beacon-Herald

A headline informs us that "women at Queen's Park must swear they are single." Some of them are probably swearing because they are single.

Legal Questions

Question: If a chattel mortgage does not set out the amount for which it is given, what effect has this on its validity?

Answer: Such an omission makes a chattel mortgage void.

Parallel Thoughts

And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will scourge the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.—Isaiah xlii 11.

SOCIAL CREDIT SUCCESS SEEN

Calgary M.P.P. Says Aberhart Government Not to Be Rushed

Visiting Victoria for his health, Fred Anderson, Social Credit M.P.P. for Calgary, said the outlook for success in their social credit plan was "exceedingly bright."

Mr. Anderson said that for the most part the people were willing to leave the working out of social credit ideas to the government. While there was always a minority in any movement demanding immediate action, the party did not intend to be hurried in such an important matter.

"We are prepared to meet any situation when it arises, and we think that eventually we will be able to establish a form of social credit that will be workable and of benefit to our people," he said.

A dividend would be paid at the end of this year, but it would be small, he said. As a start the increased purchasing power would be used only to purchase goods and services in Alberta, but later this would be extended. Plans were already developing for bartering with co-operative institutions in England and in other parts of Canada.

The people, he said, were not so much concerned over the payment of dividends as over the setting of just prices which would follow the increase in purchasing power.

The Calgary member added that the social credit movement was firmly rooted now. Premier Aberhart's personal appeal was a strong one, and there was no denying his ability as a leader. But the popularity of the movement and the co-operation it was receiving were assurances that even should Premier Aberhart at any time have to drop out it would carry on its work.

Mr. Anderson spoke last night at Alex Hall, Burnside Road, and will speak tonight at the New Thought Hall.

Madman Slayer Hunted in France

Canadian Press From Havas, Forcalquier, France, Oct. 22.—Gendarmes today stalked an armed maniac who had killed six persons near the village of Lardiers and spread terror throughout this southeastern French Alpine region.

First news of the madman came from a group of woodcutters. Hearing shots, they went to a forest clearing in the mountains near Lardiers.

Emilio Ughetto, a woodchopper, his wife and three of their children lay dead near their cabin door.

The eyewitness told authorities he fled, pursued by the madman, who fired at him several times.

U.S. Vaudeville Agent Passes

Associated Press
New York, Oct. 22.—Ferdinand Simon, operator of the Simon Agency Inc., one of the country's biggest vaudeville theatrical bookers, died Tuesday. He was born forty-one years ago, and entered the show world at the age of ten. He had managed, at one time or another, such celebrities as Phil Baker, Stepin Fetchit, Julia Anderson, Guy Robertson, Edmund Lowe, Jack Dempsey and Lupe Velez.

CANDIDATE INVITED
Preston, Eng., Oct. 22 (Canadian Press).—Preston Liberals yesterday invited Sir John Denman Barlow to contest Preston constituency as a Liberal National in the forthcoming Commons by-election. Preston is a double-member constituency. The by-election was made necessary by the appointment of W. M. Kirkpatrick, Conservative, as permanent representative in China of the government's export credits guarantee department.

Reception Is Delightful Affair

Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran Hostess at Beach Drive Home

Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran entertained at a largely attended tea party at her home on Beach Drive yesterday afternoon. The reception rooms were lovely with chrysanthemums in pink, yellow and bronze shades, and the tea-table, in the dining-room, was centred with a bowl of pink snapdragons and maidenhair fern, with tall ivory candles in silver holders at either side.

Pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. Henry C. Hall, Mrs. F. D. Brae and Mrs. J. S. Harvey. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Norman-Whittaker, Mrs. Olive Pauline, Mrs. R. D. Harvey, Mr. R. D. Travis, Miss Kenna MacDonald and Mrs. J. S. Oliphant.

"Gleaners" Busy — The monthly meeting of the "Gleaners" Mission Circle was held recently at the home of Mrs. M. L. McLennan, 311 Vancouver Street. Miss Gladys Schroeder, president, presided. The devotional period was led by Miss Evelyn Barker. A short business session followed in which the treasurer's report was given by Miss Marjorie Morris and a report of the supplies made by the circle was given by Miss Grace Stewart, the supply secretary. Miss Cora Wharton briefly introduced the new study book, "Men and Women of Far Horizons," to the girls. A duet was rendered by the Misses Jean Wilson and Lauretta McCall. The guest speaker for the evening was Nell Perry, B.A., who gave an interesting talk on his work at the Home Mission at Uclulet, and he impressed upon the circle the importance of missionary work. Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour brought the evening to a close.

PRIZED GLASS PAPERWEIGHTS

Glass paperweights are among the objects prized by antique collectors. Many of them were made by the glassmakers as gifts for their friends. Few of them are over 100 years old though glass paperweights were found in Egyptian tombs and in Greek ruins. Most of the dated paperweights were made between 1847 and 1860 at the Baccarat glass factory in France, the New England factory in Cambridge, Mass., or the Sandwich Glass Factory on Cape Cod.

LATEST BOOKS

At the Library

616.995—"Thousand Questions and Answers on T.B." (Fred Henry Casper Heise). A ready reference book for the tuberculous patient, his family and his friends, compiled from some 4,000 actual questions which tuberculous patients have put to Dr. Heise during the last ten years. It is an authoritative book, full of information that patients have wanted to help understand their illness and to get well.

613.2—"Nutrition Work With Children" (Lydia Jane Roberts), a revised and enlarged edition, specially adapted to meet the needs of teachers, social workers, nurses, physicians and specialists engaged in health and child welfare work, presented as far as possible in non-technical language.

651.7—"Tested Sales Letters" (Herbert J. Palmer). A practical approach to direct mail, presenting about 350 actual letters used successfully by concerns in many lines of business, classifying the letters according to purpose, giving crisp discussion of their significant features, cost, results, etc., and showing how they may be used as guides by other businesses for the production of better sales-letter results.

620.13—"Design of Concrete Structures" (L. C. Urquhart and C. E. O'Rourke) new edition 1935. Presents the best modern practice in the designing of plain and reinforced concrete structures and links such practice with theory through the use of complete designs of the more common structures.

330.973—"Formation of Capital" (Harold Glenn Moulton). The third in a series of four volumes which present the results of a study of the distribution of wealth and income in relation to economic progress.

360—"Social Case Work: an Outline for Teaching" (Mary A. Cannon and Philip Klein; New York School of Social Work). This volume is intended for teachers, students, case workers and social scientists.

370.973—"Introduction to Education" (William Henry Burton) is a textbook on the origin, aims and organization of education in America, bearing in mind the status and needs of beginning students.

728—"Distinguished Houses of Moderate Cost" (Raymond T. B. Hand). Photographs of interiors and exteriors of fifty houses of varied types from all parts of the United States, with a few from European countries. Floor plans are given for many of the houses shown.

975.42—"Nanga Parbat Adventure: a Himalaya Expedition" (Fritz Bechtold) translated from the German by H. E. G. Tyndale, is an account of the attempt made by a German expedition to reach the summit of Nanga Parbat in the summer of 1934. The attempt ended in tragic defeat, four Europeans and six native porters lost their lives in a blizzard which overtook them just before the final assault on the summit.

BN527—"Fire of Life" (Henry Wood Nevinnson) is an abbreviation of the author's three volumes, "Changes and Chances," "More Chances," "More Chances," and "Last Changes, Last Chances." The author is one of the best of English prose writers as well as something of a poet, with a thorough grasp of national and world affairs.

Other recent titles in non-fiction are:

027—"An Introduction to Library Science" (Pierre Butler).

500—"Science in the Making" (G. Heard).

616.994—"Cancer: the Surgeon and the researcher" (J. E. Barker).

Ratepayers Ask Council to Set Aside Land

A request that a piece of land be set aside in Esquimalt for a municipal burial ground will be forwarded to the Esquimalt Council by the Municipal Ratepayers' Association, it was decided at a meeting of the organization at the Queen of Peace Hall last night.

The matter, which has been discussed at previous meetings, was the subject of a report by a special committee and was debated at some length. Other questions under consideration by the ratepayers concern the establishment of a municipal undertaking parlor and the possibility of a crematorium.

FOR REEVESHIP
 The name of Councillor Frederick G. Eaton was put forward for the association's candidate for the reeveship at the next elections. Several members and P. H. Rees, president, favored Councillor Eaton's candidacy. A special meeting will be called shortly to consider nominations.

A suggestion that a woman member on the council would tend to improve the tone of the debates and end bickering, was put forward by Councillor Eaton. The meeting was informed by Mr. Rees that Councillor T. Harry Hodgson did not intend to seek re-election. Members were urged to make all possible efforts to fill the vacancy with an association candidate.

A.Y.P.A. Installs New Officers

An impressive service was held at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Tuesday evening, when Rev. Canon A. E. deL. Nunns, rector, assisted by Rev. E. O. Robathan, council chaplain, and Rev. Harding Priest, western field secretary of the G.B.R.E., installed the newly elected officers of the Victoria and District A.Y.P.A. Council.

President, Ray Hatfield, vice-president, Anne Crockett, secretary, and Chris Howland, treasurer.

The outgoing executive were officially retired.

Special prayers, hymns and a renewal of the A.Y.P.A. pledge were incorporated in the service, after which Canon Nunns presented a stirring message, in the form of a challenge.

"Have we got the vision of Christ?" A rally followed in the hall, with Jack Aylwin as master of ceremonies.

Rev. Harding Priest gave an instructive address on "The Desire of Youth to Cope With the Problems of Life."

The service was a most successful one, and the new officers were warmly welcomed.

RADIO PASTOR TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. Dr. E. W. Kenyon, pastor of "The Church of the Air," broadcast over station KJR, Seattle, will give inspirational addresses at the morning and afternoon services at the Church of Our Lord, Humboldt and Blanshard Streets, on Sunday, next. The regular worship will be followed by brief healing services.

Dr. Kenyon is gifted with the rare quality of holding his audience in rapt attention, without resorting to the theatrical to amuse.

Endowed with a poetic and melodious mind he writes his hymns and composes their musical setting. His book, "The Wonderful Name of Jesus," imparts to its readers the fact of being gently and kindly led into the very presence of the Master.

Known as "the lone poet of the Olympics" his book of inspirational poems has endeared him to the public.

When most men have retired from a life of activity, Dr. Kenyon, with his abundant energy, carries on a tremendous work in Seattle and elsewhere.

Dr. Kenyon gives inspirational addresses to thousands of listeners at 7 o'clock every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning over station KJR, Seattle.

Dr. Kenyon also edits weekly a

Nose Test New Paternity Proof

Associated Press

Berlin, Oct. 22.—A new "paternity test"—using the nose as the basis of determination—was announced yesterday by Dr. Wolfgang Abel, expert on biological heredity in the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Anthropology.

After extensive research, Dr. Abel decreed the "blood count" theory of determining paternity.

"The shape of the nostrils, the length, breadth and depth of the nose, its general contour—all these details have a decisive value in tracing paternity," Dr. Abel declared.

After the nose, he said, the lips are the best bet for revealing paternity. He cited the famous "Hapsburg lip" as a classical example of how facial peculiarities are passed on to future generations.

LANGFORD

The seventeenth annual meeting of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service will be held in the Women's Institute Hall, Dunford Road, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Dr. H. E. Young and Miss A. Creator, of the Victorian Order of Nurses, will be guest speakers.

The fortnightly meeting of the St. Matthew's Girls' W.A. was held last Friday evening at the home Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen, Marshwood. Mrs. Hewson gave an address picturing the first seven women who started the W.A. and the missionary work carried on in India, China and Japan.

The second card party under the auspices of the social committee of the Langford Women's Institute was held on Wednesday, October 21, in the Institute Hall, Dunford Road.

HOW TO PLACE SILVER

In setting a table for a formal dinner, remember that all forks go on the left, except the oyster fork, which is on the right, and all knives and spoons go on the right. Butter knives should be laid across the edge of butter plates. All the implements are laid so that those for the first course are farthest from the plate, and those for the last course are next to it.

VICTORIA WEST SCHOOL AIDED

H. Pearce was elected president of the Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association at its annual meeting in the auditorium of the school, Tuesday evening.

A general outline of the year's activities was given by the secretary-treasurer, Vice-principal Rudyard Kipling, who stated that $60.63 had been realized at a concert held for the school soccer team. A football and $10 and $3 donations had also been received.

The concert held earlier in the year for the purpose of obtaining equipment for the girls' hockey team had realized $41.

Mrs. G. Foster spoke very highly of the work carried out by Sgt. A. Bishop in promoting the concerts which had enabled the principal to purchase the required equipment for school sports. The meeting tendered a vote of thanks to him.

Much praise was given by Sgt. Bishop for the able manner in which he had been assisted by the executive and local artists in making a success of these concerts. He dwelt particularly on the good work of Mesdames G. Foster, A. Wilson, J. Collins and C. P. Hurry.

LAUDS WORK

Principal H. S. Hurn expressed on behalf of the school staff sincere appreciation for the many accomplishments of the members of the Parent-Teacher Association during the year. He spoke feelingly of the credit due to the members of the school board for the work done on the school and grounds.

The following officers were elected for the year: President, T. Pearce;

Danger Side to Practical Joke

Report of Man Lying On Car Tracks Leads Police On Chase; Only a Dummy

A joke is a joke anytime and as a rule police officers can appreciate one as much as anybody, but there are times when they draw the line in the interests of public safety.

Tuesday evening the police patrol answered a hurried call to Fort Street, near Lee Avenue, where a man was reported lying on the street car tracks.

When the officers arrived they discovered someone had placed a life-size dummy, stuffed with straw, on the tracks, giving the impression a man was in danger of being run over.

The constables enjoyed the laugh on themselves, but pointed out the dummy might have been responsible for a serious accident if some driver had swerved his car to avoid it.

The serious side of it, however, did not prevent the police having a joke on the police reporter when they pointed to a "murdered man" lying in the medical room this morning.

vice-president, Principal H. S. Hurn; secretary-treasurer, Vice-principal Rudyard Kipling; second vice-president, I. Smith; members of the executive, Mesdames G. Foster, A. Wilson, J. Collins and C. P. Hurry.

Card games were enjoyed under the supervision of Mr. Pearce. Refreshments were served.

MET OLD BOYS IN ENGLAND

C. W. Lonsdale Home After Long Tour Undertaken For Health

Much improved in health after a holiday tour which embraced the United States, the British West Indies and England, C. W. Lonsdale, headmaster of the Shawnigan Lake school for boys, registered at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"I met many of my 'old boys' wherever I traveled in England, and they all appeared to be doing well, many of them being in the army and navy," said Mr. Lonsdale.

He visited his old school at Westminster and attended the new Educational Fellowship conference at Cheltenham, which last summer attracted delegates from all parts of the world.

"You hear very little talk of war in England, although it is generally recognized that Europe is sitting on the edge of a volcano," said Mr. Lonsdale.

There were evidences of great activity with the airplane manufacturing plants working at high pressure to fill orders for fighting planes under the British defence scheme. There seemed to be more activity in the development of the air force than in the other branches of the service, he said.

The munition plants were also busy, working night and day shifts. Mr. Lonsdale left early in the year and after traveling by motor through the United States and across the Mexican border, returned to San Francisco, from where he took steamer through the Panama Canal to the British West Indies, spending some time in Bermuda and Puerto Rico.

He then took passage by the Donaldson freighter to England, recuperating in health during the long voyage. He recrossed the Atlantic by the Duchess of Bedford and spent a short time in eastern Canada before coming on to the coast.

Fire Destroys Saltair Home

Chenalunus, Oct. 22.—The home of K. Thornley at Saltair was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The blaze was noticed by Mrs. Thornley about 11 o'clock, when she first heard a crackling noise.

Mrs. Thornley was alone with Mrs. Thornley Sr. at the time and the two women had barely time to rescue a few personal belongings and the heat was so intense they could not re-enter the one-story four-room building. Having no telephone, they were unable to summon assistance, and by the time neighbors arrived the building and its contents were a total loss.

Frank Tupman was authorized by the Saanich School Board yesterday evening to organize a girls' choir at Mount View High School. Hourly practices will be held at the school twice weekly and the board secretary was authorized to purchase sheet music to the value of $50 for the choir.

Payment of September accounts, totaling $1,539.10, was authorized by the Saanich School Board yesterday evening.

Strawberry Vale

Mrs. C. Campass has just returned to her home in Prescott, Arizona, after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Campion, Wilkinson Road.

Mrs. Muriel Hey returned last Thursday from Salt Spring Island, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Moutat, Ganges.

A happy function took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Rainer of Loenhelm Road last Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Rainer entertained in honor of the third birthday of Marian Elton. The guests included: Betty Lou James, Sheila Watling, Nancy, Louie and Harry Williamson.

also Mesdames F. James, T. Williamson, G. Watling and Mrs. Martin.

The shadows lay thick beneath the trees and where they were deepest a figure crouched. Suddenly he heard a sound, a light footfall on the grass. "That you, mate?" he whispered hoarsely.

"Yes," came the reply. "What are you doing with that dog?" he muttered, as his burglar partner drew near.

"Why, there was nothing worth taking in the house," his partner answered, "and it's bad luck to come away without anything, so I pinched the watchdog and these burglar alarms."

Bring LIFE, LUSTRE and COLOR to YOUR HAIR—this harmless, odorless vegetable rinse will do it

Attractive hair can be made doubly beautiful by giving it lustrous, gleaming highlights. And dull, faded, streaked hair can now be made radiant and colorful... without risk of harm to the scalp or hair, without a lot of trouble and fuss.

HOW? By using Lovalon after each shampoo. Lovalon is the hair rinse approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau and used by beauty shops throughout the world. Lovalon does not dry, does not bleach—affects the hair in no way except to make it more beautiful. And certainly Lovalon is cheap enough to use—five rinses costs but 35 cents!

Try Lovalon. It takes but a minute to use. And you will be amazed at the sparkle and silken softness it gives your hair. Lovalon comes in twelve shades. Get the 35 cent size Lovalon at any drug or department store, or a trial size at any ten cent store. Or, have any beauty shop give you a Lovalon rinse.

Hudson's Bay And Navy Move Into Wednesday Soccer Lead

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE TIME appears ripe for the formation of a new rugby club in town. Last season the senior league started with six teams. This year there are, to date, just half that number. Approximately fifty players have just been wiped off the map. Undoubtedly the city was too small to support half a dozen first class fiftens. But it should be big enough for four.

The triangle league leaves the impression the outstanding players have, of their own volition, or through some form of inducement, been combined to form so-called "winning teams." That does not hold in the case of the Navy, of course, since the sailors draw exclusively from their own ranks for players.

There are very decided disadvantages to a three-team hook-up. One of the squads must content itself with lay-off each week, unless it succeeds in securing a friendly fixture, such a schedule is hardly conducive to the development of team play and cohesion.

If league interest and value is to be sustained at its highest possible point, a fourth entry is virtually a necessity. Where, or how, that additional club is to be found should be a problem for earnest study by the union officials.

They might find the makings of an exceptionally good squad in the ranks of graduates from Victoria College, University School, and Brentwood College. A few years ago those schools provided the main sources for senior talent. At present several of the old boys from those centres are playing smart ball for the teams in the league.

To ask their return from the teams with which they are registered would undoubtedly entail a certain hardship on their present clubs. But the added advantages of a fourth entry might merit the action.

Should such a club be formed, it might find a wealth of guiding talent in leaders of the respective schools in the days of their rugby peaks. Johnny Grant, Reg. Wenman, Phil Willis and George "Wamba" Warnock, if they could be persuaded to do so, would give a leadership that would bring out the best in their potential players.

With the Victoria College Alma Mater spirit, the Beau Ideal of University School, and the school spirit of old Brentwood boys, such a new club would be well launched on the way to a tradition. And then, too, the boys who learned their rugby in those schools have more than a rudimentary idea of how to co-operate in plays.

Vancouver has had its "Occasional" in operation for some time. Victoria might copy the general scheme of that club to advantage if it feels the need of that fourth entry.

Games Played In High Rugby Loop

The Victoria-Oak Bay High School Rugby League advanced yesterday with two games played. The Victoria High School Blues defeated the Oak Bay High School Blues 15 to 0 at Oak Bay, and the Victoria High School Golds beat the Victoria High School Greens 9 to 3 at the Victoria grounds.

WRESTLING

Former Defeat Spencer's Team By Lone Marker

McLellan Nets Goal to Turn Back Defending Champs; Navy Whip James Bay

Cockrill Nets Four Counters

Each with undefeated records the Navy and Hudson's Bay teams are out in front of the Wednesday Football League race. The two leaders marked up fine victories yesterday afternoon in the double bill at the Athletic Park, the sailors blanking the James Bay Wanderers 4 to 0 and the Bays turning back Spencer's 1 to 0.

Although they are tied with the Bays for the lead the Navy have played one less match. In three games the tars have won two and drawn one. The Bays' record for four matches is one victory and three draws. Spencer's last year's champions, hold-down third position with a win, defeat and draw in three engagements.

Outstanding in the decisive victory of the Navy was Cecil Cockrill, hard-boiled centre-forward, who scored all his team's counters. Seven minutes after play got under way the Navy were out in front, Cockrill taking a pass from Bruce Robinson, to go in close and beat Sadler in the Bays' net.

The Navy continued to keep play around their opponent's goal mouth and came close to scoring when DeCosta headed Cockrill's centre over the bar. It was not long before the sailors went ahead 2 to 0. Cockrill getting his second counter following a corner kick taken by Brown. Wanderers finally broke away and Mundie, Navy goalie, made two good blocks on shots by Glancy and Brown. Half-time found no change in the score.

When one of the backs failed to get his kick away, Cockrill nipped in to score his third goal for the Navy. Twenty minutes after the opening of the second period. The centre-forward ended the scoring for the afternoon minutes later.

Before the final whistle the Wanderers missed a penalty. W. Sadler hitting one of the uprights on a spot shot awarded against Bruce Robinson for hands.

D. McLellan refereed. The teams followed: Wanderers — G. Sadler, Coats, Geoghegan, L. Gelling, Knapp, W. Sadler, Glancy, Daniels, Alcock, Ball, Hood and White.

Navy — Mundie, W. Hibbert, H. Dovey, Hutton, Robinson, Sands, Brown, McLellan, Cockrill, De Costa and Walker.

SPENCER'S BEATEN A lone goal by Rosy McLellan early in the first half gave the Hudson's Bay victory over Spencer's in the battle of the departmental store clubs.

For the first ten minutes of play Spencer held the whip hand and Travis, Bays' goalie, was tested with shots from Clarke, Stewart and Collins. The Bays finally settled down to a play in the second half. Spencer was given plenty of work in his goal. Taking the ball near centre field Miles, centre-forward, carried it into Spencer's goal territory, passed to McLellan, and the latter found the net for what proved the winning counter.

Spencer took the offensive and Brown, winger, sent in two shots that Travis cleared nicely. The Bays had tough luck when shots by Miles and Oakman both struck the post.

Although they had a slight margin on the play in the second half Spencer were unable to get the tying goal. Several times their forwards had good openings, but their shots were either wild or easily handled by Travis.

Uplands Event Great Success

With a field of 120, drawn from all the city's clubs, the invitation golf tournament staged at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday under the supervision of Walter Graham, club pro, was an outstanding success. J. P. Owens won the men's prize with a net 61 while Mrs. Alex. Gillespie led the women with a net 77. Norman Wallace and Mrs. E. Jackson had the best gross scores with rounds of 77 and 84, respectively.

CAGE TEAMS IN DEADLOCK

West Saanich and Liberty Cafe Tied For Lead in Men's Senior B Race

West Saanich Mercantiles and Liberty Cafe were holding down first place in the men's senior B division of the Victoria and District Basketball League today. The suburban hoopers hoisted themselves into the tie when they administered a 37 to 30 defeat on the Cafemen yesterday evening at the High School gym. In other games the Sons of Canada and Oak Bay Merchants were victors.

A one-point lead was the margin held by the Cafemen as the breather was reached. The score read 14 to 13. The second half got under way the Liberty managed to add another trio of points, but after that they bumped right into a stiff suburban offensive. The rally netted the Mercantile quintette an even fifteen points, and gave them a twelve-point lead. During the last part of the match the Cafemen tried hard to get back on even terms.

Scoring eighteen of his team's total points—one less than the opposing team's total score—Harold Turner, brilliant forward for the Sons of Canada, piloted his team to a 41 to 19 victory over the Regente, in an intermediate A tussle.

It was a one-sided affair, with the Sons getting farther out of the reach of their opponents as the game progressed. The score at the half stood 19 to 6 in their favor. Oak Bay Merchants, making their debut in the league, just managed to beat the Canadian Scottish aggregation, 20 to 19, in the opening match. Not much scoring took place in the initial stanza with the score reading 10 to 6 for the Killies as the players left the floor at the interval.

Soon after the resumption the Oak Bay boys went to the front. Near the finish they had piled up a six-point lead and a last-minute comeback on the part of the Canadian Scottish was cut short by the gong.

Wally Stipe refereed. The teams and scores follow: Oak Bay Merchants — B. Vandrunen (1), G. Murdoch (2), K. Burden, F. Wright (3), D. Morton, Hughes (7) and Davies (2). Total 29.

Canadian Scottish — J. Cosler (4), D. Smith (1), S. Rednap (3), G. Knight (4), G. Jackson (5), F. Speed and Alexander (2). Total 19.

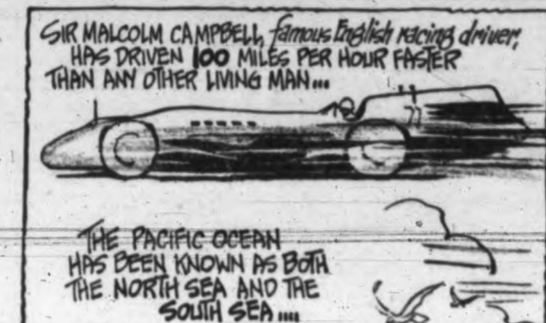

Sons of Canada — B. Price, H. Turner (18), F. Smart (2), J. Spark, A. Barber (9), S. Walker (3), S. Jackson (9) and W. Noel (1). Total 41.

Regente — F. Minnis (2), A. Kirkbride (5), J. MacAdams, Parfitt (3), G. Sparks (6), Dale and L. Elliott (3). Total 19.

West Saanich Mercantiles — C. Stuggett (9), R. Mitchell (3), C. Slugett (3), B. Mitchell (2), Cunningham (6), Slugett (7), Paulson and Young (7). Total 37.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Believed to be the first man to put real showmanship into music, Louis Alton Jullien, a 19th century French bandmaster, was the creator of some of the outstanding extravaganzas. His all-time peak along this line was a performance he gave at the Crystal Palace in New York entitled "Night" or "The Firemen's Quadrille" during his American tour.

An unsuspecting audience heard the concert open with quiet, soothing music. Gradually it stepped up a bit with a flutter of violins. Suddenly, as its tempo rose to a fast pace, the clang of firebells were heard outside. Tongues of flame broke out from the ceiling. Firemen came dashing in, smashing windows on their way. Water poured from the nozzles of their hoses. Women

BILLY BUXTON IS MATCHED

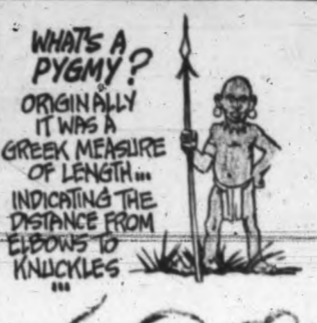

Will Battle Russ McMillan, Seattle, on Local Fight Card Here Nov. 5

Back from Seattle after scoring a one-round knockout over Buddy Ambrose, Portland, in the first round of one of the preliminaries on the Steele-Matthews card last night, Billy Buxton, Victor's hard-hitting featherweight, started making plans for his ten-round bout here on November 5, with Russ McMillan, Seattle.

Buxton will go into training immediately and by fight night will be in the pink of condition. McMillan was signed for the bout last night in Seattle by Nick Lyster, who is promoting the show for the Esquimalt Athletic Club at their new club, located at Bullen Park.

McMillan is the only boy who has beaten Buxton in Seattle, taking a chance to make his pro debut on the card, and Freddie Buxton, young brother of Billy and Sonny, Parker will fight six rounds and Buxton five. As soon as the floor is completed at the new club, Buxton will work out there in the evenings to give the fans a chance to watch him in action. Net proceeds from the show will go to the Esquimalt Athletic Club building fund.

BACK FROM CARIBOO Edward Cuppage has returned from a hunting trip in the Cariboo. He bagged moose and birds.

Four other men surpassed 200 miles per hour, but all are dead. Sacrifices to the god of speed. They were: Ray Keech, killed in an automobile accident, 1928; Major Segrave, killed in a speedboat crash, 1930; Lee Bible, killed when his car crashed, 1930; and a man named Frank Lockhart, killed in 1928.

NAMING THE PACIFIC First named the South Sea by Balboa because he stood on the lath-mat of Panama and saw the sea to the South. It became the North Sea a short time later. Magellan first named it the Pacific.

Freddie Steele Takes Decision

Middleweight Champ Given Tough Battle By Allen Matthews, St. Louis Negro, at Seattle; Billy Buxton Scores First Round Knockout

Seattle, Oct. 22.—Tossing another challenger out on his ear, champion Freddie Steele, Tacoma, had his middleweight headquarters in shipshape today as he prepared to leave on an invasion of the south and east.

In a sensational ten-round, non-title battle here last night, Steele knocked down, Allen Matthews, touted St. Louis negro, for an eight count to win the unanimous decision of the two judges and referee. Steele weighed 158½, and Matthews 162.

Steele had the negro groggy four different times, but only after he had taken a barrage of heavy artillery connected with a few long range punches, but failed to bother the New Yorker. Rowan, 137½ pounds, devoted most of his time to shooting for Lee's mid-section.

Frankie Lembo, 136½, Fresno, Calif., was a decision from Young Corbuz, 133, Seattle, in four rounds. Billy Buxton, Victor, 124 pounds, knocked out Buddy Ambrose, 127½, Portland, in the first round of four.

Detrit Bed Wings, world champions, are rapidly reaching top form for the start of the "city series" in Detroit Saturday with Pittsburgh Hornets of the new International-American League. Jack Adams announced the club would carry fifteen players during the National Hockey League campaign.

Hints that Ching Johnson's playing days were drawing to a close were offered good naturedly as the big fellow got down to business in the New York Rangers camp at Winnipeg. Harry Westbury, genial Rangers' trainer, told Ching he had better learn how to apply liniment as a profession and suggested he do a little manipulating on Ott Heller's sore muscles.

The Macdonald brothers of Ottawa, Kirby and Albert, continue impressive showings in the western camp. It is hardly probable they will make the big-time in their first try in professional company, but will likely catch with Ramblers.

Alex Connell of Ottawa, reported to Maroon camp today. Signing himself "visiting fireman," Alex assured Manager Tom Gorman by wire yesterday that he was bringing plenty of clothes and intended to make a long stay in Montreal.

Main encouragement Coach Dick Irvin seems to be getting as Leafs round into condition at Galt, Ont., was the fact his two big guns, Busher Jackson and Charley Conacher, were much above their pre-season form of last campaign.

Having no word from Eddie Shore, Neils Stewart and Max Kaminsky, Boston club heads consider their hold-outs. Alex Motter, young Melville, Sask., centre star with Bruins, has informed officials that he is ill and will be late reporting to the camp at Boston.

Obituary

EMILY BADCOCK

Rev. E. O. Robertson conducted funeral services yesterday afternoon for Miss Emily Badcock, late of Osborne Court. Many beautiful floral tributes were received. The following acted as pallbearers: A. P. Dunnett, Gordon Murray, R. Holman and S. Cooper. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Alice Adeline Preece

At St. Joseph's Hospital on Tuesday there passed away, at the age of seventy-two years, Miss Alice Adeline Preece. Miss Preece was born in Ontario and as a young woman came to reside on the Pacific Coast. For the last fifty-two years she has been a resident of Victoria. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary McCabe, in California; two nieces, Miss Jessie Scott and Mrs. G. Murdoch, and one nephew, Robert Murdoch, all of Vancouver. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon in Sands Mortuary Chapel at 3 o'clock. Rev. Alan Gardiner will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

ALEX. GLEGG MOIR

The funeral of Alex. Glegg Moir, who passed away in this city on Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon and attended by a large number of friends, among whom were members of the Burns Club, R. W. Burgess, Hamilton, Ont., and C. L. McDonald, Vancouver, representing the Otis Penson Elevator Company, also attended. The service was conducted by Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., assisted by Rev. James Hood, chaplain of the Burns Club. The hymns, "Now the Day is Over" and "Abide With Me" were sung. Interment was in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery, where Pipe Major Donald Cameron played "The Lament" at the graveside. The pallbearers were: F. J. Holland, W. J. Davis, A. H. Peacey, N. B. Wellburn, A. C. Pike and A. S. Christie.

WELL-KNOWN WOMAN DIES

Mrs. J. M. Muirhead Passes Suddenly: Here Many Years

Mrs. Ella Grace Muirhead, wife of James M. Muirhead, a resident of Victoria for many years, passed away suddenly early yesterday afternoon at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, her death coming as a great shock to a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Muirhead was born at New Westminster in 1879 and for some time lived at Keremeos, B.C., before coming to Victoria to make her home. She was a much-loved member of the King's Daughters, having been a member of the Ready-to-Help Circle for many years and its president for the last two years.

She is survived by her husband and two sons, James L. and Richard H., at the family residence, and one daughter, Miss Eleanor Muirhead in Vancouver; her mother, Mrs. E. Lowe and one brother, R. C. Lowe, both in Victoria, and one sister, Mrs. M. E. Ewart of Nelson, B.C., who is at present in the city.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. B. Venables officiating. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

A successful whist and five hundred card party was held at Liberal headquarters last night under the auspices of Ward Five, Liberal Association. The winners in whist were: Ladies' first Mrs. R. McKenzie; consolation, Miss E. Moffat; gentlemen's first, R. K. Bowles; consolation, Bill Mossey and A. Rodger, equal. In five hundred: Ladies' first, Mrs. J. LeBlanc; consolation, Mrs. J. Moffat; gentlemen's first, W. Coster; consolation, W. McManus. Refreshments were served by the ladies and the prizes were presented to the successful contestants by E. M. Whyte, president of the ward.

Effort Needed For Friendship

G. J. Alexander Tells Rotarians Canada-U.S. Peace Due to Common Sense

"There is no doubt that the United States and Canada both realize the importance of continuing on a friendly footing. You as Canadians are vitally concerned in the relations between the two countries, and it is up to you to do as much as you can to say whether those relations are to be friendly or otherwise."

That was the message given Rotarians at their luncheon today by George J. Alexander, assistant commissioner of fisheries for B.C., in the course of an address on "Canadian-American Relations."

Mr. Alexander traced the essential difference between Canada and the United States at the present time, the various problems which might have led to serious friction in the past, and the manner in which that friction was avoided in almost every case by common-sense compromise.

"We take for granted a century of peace. That peace has not just happened, but rather is the result of continual effort," he said.

COMMON-SENSE ACTION

The Anglo-Saxon race had always been disposed to adapt its policies to the needs of the times, and that faculty for coming to common sense agreements had been inherited to a certain extent by the United States, he said.

In proof of this contention Mr. Alexander quoted the boundary disputes in New Brunswick in 1842, in Oregon in 1846, and in Alaska in 1903. In every case the result had been a compromise.

He further referred to the departure from precedent which the two countries made in exchanging ministers before Canada reached its Dominion status, and in the formation of the International Joint Commission in 1909, which served as a virtual League of Nations between the two countries.

FRUITION EASY

As an example of what little matters could affect the relationship of nations, Mr. Alexander quoted the bitter feeling caused in Canada following the Great War by the declarations of a small minority in the United States—a country which had done less fighting and lost fewer men than Canada—that they had won the war.

He saw in the present time a steadily growing understanding of Canada in the United States, and the end of a feeling of inferiority and consequent irritation towards the United States in Canada.

Mr. Alexander was introduced and thanked by Frank I. Doherty, president.

Fred Butterfield announced receipt of a message from W. M. Bishop, manager of Shirley Temple, that Shirley was sending an article which she had used in one of her pictures to be donated to the Victoria girl doing most to aid the Rotary superfluity sale next month.

P. E. Corcoran and Thomas H. Kelly were introduced as new members of the club respectively by Frank Turley and Frank Sehl.

Funeral Friday Of Old-timer

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Ann Rose, who died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Rev. James Hyde will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery. Many friends in Victoria are left to mourn the death of Mrs. Rose, who passed away at her home on Styles Street on Tuesday. Born in Dunvegan County, Ontario, on April 23, 1858, Mrs. Rose came to Victoria fifty-three years ago and had made her home here since that time. She had a wide circle of friends here and had been keenly interested in church work in connection with St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. She was the widow of William McKenzie Rose, Victoria, and the mother of Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. A. G. Lough, George, Alec, Stanley and Wallace Rose, all of this city. She also leaves seven grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Harold Hewlett, died in June, 1924. She leaves two sisters and one brother in Winnipeg: Mrs. P. McDonald, Mrs. J. Kellett and William McLean.

A meeting will be held under the auspices of the Victoria Branch, League of Nations Society, at the Y.W.C.A. Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, in connection with National Peace Action week Nov. 8 to 14. Invitations have been sent to the various organizations of the city asking them to send a representative to the meeting to assist in formulating a programme for Peace Action week. Dean Quinlan will preside.

APPEAL HEARD ON SOLICITING

Judgment Reserved on Sightseeing Case By Judge Harper

Judgment in the test case over the status of the city's by-law which aims to prevent sightseeing company employees from soliciting at or near the docks, will be handed down by Judge A. M. Harper in County Court next Thursday at 10 o'clock.

The appeal hearing was completed before Judge Harper this morning, with Alexis Martin conducting the case for the appellant, Arthur Buller, and C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, for the Crown.

On the outcome of the appeal depends action concerning several other operators who have been arraigned in city police court on the same charge and have been granted remands from week to week pending the test.

In the case before Judge Harper, conviction and a fine of $20 was appealed. Buller was convicted and fined by Magistrate Jay in City Police Court some time ago.

For the appellant, Mr. Martin claimed the city's by-law on the matter did not cover the issue, although it assumed powers which, he contended, the Legislature had not given the city.

The by-law, he said, did not aim at preventing soliciting throughout the city, but only in restricted areas covered by streets, wharves, docks, piers, steamboat landings, railroad stations and public places. They accounted for but one-quarter of the acreage of Victoria, on a liberal estimate, Mr. Martin claimed.

The city could not prohibit soliciting throughout Victoria, unless it had received legislation giving them that right. No such legislation had been granted from October 31 for an indefinite period, Wing-Commander D. J. Harrison reminded upon special by-law powers given to Vancouver, and Mr. Harrison replied similar concessions had been given Victoria in certain cases.

Mr. Harrison suggested the whole question before the court lay in the city's power to amend the Municipal Act in such a way as to make the by-law covering soliciting valid.

HAVE POWER

He declared the powers conferred under the B.C. Interpretation Act were far greater than those cited by Mr. Martin in the case of Ontario.

Those powers had been granted to prevent the splitting of hairs on questions, he said, adding the laws were meant to cover the true intent and spirit of the subsection in question, for the good rule of the municipality.

He remarked upon the question of jurisdiction affected by the by-law. Citing the Criminal Code, he illustrated the wide interpretation of "public place." The by-law, he maintained, covered the whole city and not a restricted zone.

The Revellers' Club, whose social functions are so much anticipated by the younger set, will hold the first of their annual dances at the Upside-Down Club tomorrow evening.

The autumn dance of the Revellers, as this programme affair is known as, has already attracted wide attention and reports from the committee in charge indicate that tickets are going fast and there are few left.

Len Acre's orchestra will provide the music and dancing will be from 9 to 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be served in one of the golf club's spacious rooms.

Given Cheque For Solarium

"This is another manifestation of the wonderful work Rotary has been doing for charity since its inception here," said J. W. Hudson, president of the Solarium, as he received a cheque for $1,800 from Frank I. Doherty, president of the Rotary Club, at the club's luncheon today.

The cheque represents the proceeds of the exhibition of Titania's Palace for one month at the Hudson's Bay Company. The display was sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Mr. Hudson expressed to the club the appreciation of the board of directors of the Solarium and also of its seventy-two young inmates for the money.

He then turned over the cheque to Charles Williams, honorary secretary-treasurer of the institution.

Mr. Hudson concluded by inviting all members of the club to visit the Solarium at their earliest convenience.

Was Given Cash For Bad Cheques

Lum Sing, alias Wo Sun, who was convicted in the City Police Court yesterday on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences, was convicted of a second similar offence this morning and sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

In yesterday's case it was proved he obtained $26.30 in cash and goods valued at $37.70 from Victor Lang with a worthless cheque, and this morning John Lowe, Chinese tailor, testified he was given a worthless cheque for $35 in payment for a $15 suit. He paid the accused $20 change for the cheque.

Several previous convictions were read against him.

My Boyhood Ambition

DR. W. R. GUNN

"My first ambition was to be an athlete," says Dr. W. R. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner. "Especially a track star or a boxer."

He accepted the position of livestock commissioner in 1929 because it allowed him to apply his dual training.

"If I had my life over again? Say, I wouldn't do all the foolish things, but I'd take the same training," said Dr. Gunn.

The picture was taken of Dr. Gunn when he was graduated from Ontario Agriculture College.

Plane Service To Discontinue

Not Sufficient Passengers to Keep Machine Running This Winter

The seaplane service operated between Victoria and Vancouver by Canadian Airways Ltd. will be suspended from October 31 for an indefinite period, Wing-Commander D. J. Harrison, superintendent of the Pacific Division, announced today.

Passenger traffic on the route is unable to adequately support the operation, he said, and resumption of the service will depend on development of mail revenues during the fall and winter months.

The service will end with the trip leaving Victoria at 4:15 p.m. on October 31, MacLaren said.

Curriculum To Increase Cost

Saanich Must Find $7,000 to Meet New School Plan Requirements

Application of the new Department of Education curriculum in Saanich schools will mean an added expenditure this year of $7,000 to the Saanich School Board, it was reported to the trustees yesterday evening.

Considerable old roads via Cowichan Bay, which has only a possible surplus of $950 on hand.

Trustee Walter P. Jeune, chairman, said the additional expense would be brought about by the purchase of new books and equipment required by the provincial legislation.

The curriculum, he said, would have to be introduced gradually as he would hesitate to ask the council for a lump sum this year to put it into effect.

Other members of the board, while agreeing the change was probably a beneficial one designed for greater advancement for the children, thought further consideration should have been given the aspect of increasing municipal school costs to such a degree.

Twelve principals attended the meeting and discussed the new programme with the trustees. They were asked for minimum requirements under the new curriculum and explained it would be necessary to secure large quantities of books and equipment which had not previously been used in the schools.

At the close of the meeting the principals were requested to prepare lists of the new requirements and forward them to the board.

Young people of the Emmanuel and First Baptist Churches held a meeting at the Emmanuel Church Tuesday evening, and Rev. A. E. Dank of Chemainus gave a most interesting and inspiring illustrated lecture on Palestine and the Jews, showing the return of the Jewish people to their own land and the wonderful way in which that land has gone ahead in the last few years.

Investigating Sport Fishing

Three-man Federal Commission to Study Problem in Province

The sport fishing problems of British Columbia will be investigated by a three-man commission to be set up by the Federal Government, it was learned with the return from Ottawa today of Attorney-General Gordon Sloan.

Mr. Sloan, who has been appearing before the Supreme Court of Canada as counsel for the crown in two B.C. criminal cases, took the question of sport fish propagation up with Hon. J. E. McInnes, K.C., Federal Minister of Fisheries.

He announced on his return that he will shortly apply to Ottawa for the appointment of the commission to study the situation and report back to the respective governments.

The commission will consist of a representative of the biological board, the federal fisheries department and the B.C. game branch.

One of the most important questions for the commission will be that of restocking rivers and streams with game fish, choosing the streams in which the best results can be obtained, and studying closer co-ordination between the federal and provincial governments in this regard.

The closing of fish hatcheries in this province by the Federal Government comes into the picture because these hatcheries, besides their work on commercial salmon, have also been dealing with sport fish, he said.

Sloan Back To London Shortly

Attorney-General Will Spend Few Weeks in Town

Attorney-General Gordon Sloan, K.C., returned to Victoria today after his appearance before the Supreme Court of Canada as crown counsel in two criminal appeals. In three or four weeks he will leave to appear before the Privy Council in London.

In the meantime the Attorney-General will deal with legislation for the session which opens next Tuesday.

While his plans are not definite yet, Mr. Sloan said he may have to leave before the Legislature adjourns to be in London for the hearing of the constitutional reference cases in connection with the Bennett reform legislation.

Before the Supreme Court Mr. Sloan handled the crown's arguments in the Gordon and the Bennett cases, and the Dunbar and Russell cases arising out of a bank hold-up in Vancouver. Acting with him was J. R. Nicholson.

He will personally represent the province before the Privy Council in a fight to have the Marketing Act, in opposition to Dominion wage legislation which is regarded here as invading the provincial field of jurisdiction.

DUNCAN FOR NEW HIGHWAY

Opposes Cancellation of Proposed Cut-off Road

The Duncan city council is opposed to cancellation of the proposed cut-off on the Island Highway just south of Buxton Vista Hill through to Koksilah, a letter from the Duncan clerk, E. S. Fox, received at the City Hall today, indicated.

The letter is a reply to question from Victoria over Duncan's stand on the cancellation of the proposed cut-off.

When the project was broached, Mayor Greig of Duncan telegraphed the Minister of Public Works as follows:

"City of Duncan council fully endorse proposed rerouting of Island Highway, Cobble Hill to Koksilah. Consider old road via Cowichan Bay, which has only a possible surplus of $950 on hand."

Trustee Walter P. Jeune, chairman, said the additional expense would be brought about by the purchase of new books and equipment required by the provincial legislation.

The curriculum, he said, would have to be introduced gradually as he would hesitate to ask the council for a lump sum this year to put it into effect.

Other members of the board, while agreeing the change was probably a beneficial one designed for greater advancement for the children, thought further consideration should have been given the aspect of increasing municipal school costs to such a degree.

ALBERT CREITZ WINS APPLAUSE

Portland Symphony Violinist Given Warm Reception in Concert Here

By G.D.

Albert Creitz, violinist, and member of the Portland-Symphony Orchestra, was presented in a recital yesterday evening at the Empire Theatre by the National Institute of Music and Arts, in conjunction with the Columbia School of Music.

In response to the institute's invitation, the building was well filled by a discriminating audience which, evidently delighted with the sound and safe technique of the violinist and his excellent accompaniment, gave most generously of applause, recalling him many times to the platform.

Mr. Creitz in the opening number, a violin concerto, played with a firm and elastic, and at times his volume of tone warmly colored.

His piece de resistance, however, was the Max Bruch Concerto, Op. 8, in which the lovely melody and the vivid finale showed him at his best. The audience at its conclusion tendered the artist rounds of applause and a recall to the platform.

His other numbers were the lovely Nocturne in E flat (Chopin), played with an engaging cantilena, but occasionally his delightful tone was overstressed. Absolute command of the fingerboard and bow arm he found also in Kreisler's famous "Liebesleid," closing with the brilliant Spanish "Habanera" (Sarasate), which had engaging vivacity, fervor and facility.

Called three times to the platform, he included the respectful "Canto Amaroso," by Mischa Elman, Harry van Dyke, a capable if somewhat eclectic accompanist, co-ordinated splendidly in the Bruch concerto, and evinced high musicianship.

"Swing Time" To

Open Saturday

"Swing Time," with Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire in the leading roles will open its Victoria engagement at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday.

"The Waits in Swing Time" is one of two big dance specialties in

"Swing Time," the other being "Bojangles of Harlem" interpreted by Astaire in a symbolic setting with two dozen septa beauties.

"Swing Time" pictures Fred Astaire

as a dancing gambler who matches bet for bet and tap for tap with

Ginger Rogers, as a dance hall instructress. Victor Moore, Helen Broderick, Eric Blore, Betty Furness and

Georges Metaxa complete the featured cast of this RKO Radio Picture.

Popular Stars At The Atlas

The early days with their ever-present Indian dangers and its roaming outlaws. Live again on the screen of the Atlas Theatre this week, when King Vidor's epic picture, "The Texas Rangers," opened today.

A story as dramatic and thrilling as its background is a sweeping "The Texas Rangers" outlines the work of the band of fearless men who brought order to the Lone Star State. Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie, cast in leading roles, appear as outlaws who join the Rangers, taking part in the daily work of daring undertakings by America's first organization of state peace officers.

The Rangers took oath on enlisting to subdue Indians, kill or capture murderers, break up gangs of brigands and cattle thieves, and "make Texas a reasonably safe place in which to live." The two characters, in the course of the plot, have a leading part in the final great battle of the Rangers with hostile Indians.

Where To Go Tonight
As Advertised
Atlas—"The Texas Rangers," starring Fred MacMurray.
Capitol—Robert Montgomery in "Piccadilly Jim."
Columbia—Ken Maynard in "The Cattle Thief."
Dominion—Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland in "Wives Never Know."
Oak Bay—Franchot Tone in "Dangerous."
Plaza—Warren William and Patricia Ellis in "Lucky Legs."

Franchot Tone At Oak Bay Theatre
The romantic comedy, "Hands Across the Table," is one-half of the programme at the Oak Bay Theatre, commencing today. Featured as a companion picture is "Dangerous," a city-life thriller with Bette Davis. Franchot Tone, Margaret Lindsay and Alison Skipworth in the leading roles.

"Hands Across the Table" is a laugh riot from start to finish and centres around an ambitious manicurist (Carole Lombard).

FINE MYSTERY AT THE PLAZA

"The Case of the Lucky Legs" Opened Today

"The Case of the Lucky Legs," First National's latest Perry Mason film, which opened at the Plaza Theatre today, carries a plot and action so unusual that they make of the picture both a mystery thriller and a hilarious comedy.

The murder is the outgrowth of a contest to find the girl with the most beautiful legs, a sequence which is a show of itself, Hollywood's prettiest girls having been selected as the contestants.

The drama, filled with fast action and many thrills, and leavened by many comedy touches in which Allen Jenkins plays an important part as the blundering investigator and strong arm man for the lawyer-detective, can be compared in entertainment value, only with "Thin Man."

The second feature is "Sutter's Gold," starring Edward Arnold.

Clark Gable Will Be Starred Here

Gary Cooper, the screen's most famous soldier-of-fortune, will be seen again in his favorite role when "The General Died at Dawn," a Paramount picture of adventure, romance and intrigue in modern war-torn China, opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Having already established himself as filmdom's outstanding portrayal of romantic adventure roles in the French Foreign Legion, the Bengal Lancers and the Italian and American armies, Cooper now comes to the screen as a roving soldier-of-fortune in modern war-torn China.

Appearing opposite him is beautiful blonde Madeleine Carroll in an entirely new role, as a Broadway musical "Rush Hour Rhapsody," a cartoon comedy in color, and the usual up to the minute Dominion Canadian news.

"Cattle Thief" At Columbia Theatre

Filled with thrills and crowded with exciting rides, hazardous escapades and last-minute rescues, "The Cattle Thief," Columbia western, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is based, as are all Maynard's pictures, on an actual incident in the development of the west. The incident is that of a range detective who posed as an itinerant peddler and rounded up a gang of bad men in the wilderness of Montana. Maynard plays just such a role.

The supporting cast includes Genevieve Tobin, Ward Bond, Sheldon Lewis and Roger Williams. Spencer Gordon Bennett directed.

Also being shown is Edward G. Robinson and Helen Vinson in "The Little Giant."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Here is the way I solved two problems: Perhaps it may contain a suggestion that will help some other woman. My first was the mother-in-law problem. My husband's mother is a splendid woman, but bossy, and she boasted that no matter where she was she would be the "captain of the ship."

The first time she came to see us after our marriage, she interrupted me continually while I was giving my order to the butcher by suggesting different things and saying what she would do. I pretended not to hear her, but when it was over I said to her: "Mother, I think you are a grand housekeeper. My mother was a fine housekeeper, too, but I'm going to keep house my own way. I'll make mistakes and when I need advice you are the person I will come to, but first I am going to try my way."

"When I visited you, I acted like a guest. I made no criticisms on the way you did things. I offered no suggestions and did not in any way try to upset your house or plans. Why don't you treat me the same way? Act like a guest when you come to see me. Be company. I'll be happy to cater to your likes and dislikes as soon as I learn your taste."

My husband was horrified when he heard the conversation. No one had ever dared cross his mother before and he thought she would be furious, but she burst out in a big laugh and said she would try. Since then we have always been the best friends and she has never interfered with me. I think young housekeepers should assert their rights to be the heads of their own houses. It is easy to call a bluff.

My next problem in married life was the extravagance of my husband. A successful young lawyer, he loved social life. His credit was good and the bills accumulated, not over months but actually over years. It worried me, so I finally took the problem to his banker who was also a close friend, and this was his advice: "Your husband is extravagant by nature, but he is also proud of the confidence people have in him, and honest, and he will meet his obligations some time. However, if you ever hope to accumulate anything you will have to start buying on credit yourself, but buy a home and good stocks and bonds and charge them."

I started off with one share of stock. I could pay $20 a month for it until it was paid for, but my husband had to pay that $20 promptly on the first of each month. Before he had paid for that I had him bargaining for a home on the same basis. I kept him up to his ears in debt paying for things that had real value until he got as enthusiastic about saving as I was.

But I have one problem still unsolved and that is what to do with the telephone hound. I mean the woman who gets you on the wire and tells you all of her troubles, her family affairs, the neighborhood gossip. Talks and talks and talks by the hour, wasting your time and boring you until you are ready to curse the day that Mr. Bell made his immortal invention.

In vain you tell her that you are busy, that a thousand things are pressing on you to do. Nothing stops her. She is enjoying herself and she should worry about being a public pest. What to do about her nobody knows, because she is a universal affliction. Can you suggest a remedy?

Answer—Alas, I can throw no light on this dark subject. I can only mingle my tears with yours, for, like you and like everyone else, I am martyred daily by the telephone hound who devours my busy hours with her talk and tears my working schedule to pieces. She is like taxes and death—something we cannot avoid.

The only remedy that I have ever been able to think of is that the telephone company should put a prohibitive rate on all conversations that exceed three minutes. That is long enough for anybody to say anything that they have any business discussing over the phone. The other suggestions in this letter are so wise and so helpful that I commend them to all brides.

DEAR MISS DIX—My wife and I have been exceptionally happy together. No home could have been more peaceful and harmonious than ours. No trouble there. But we have a son who has grown up under ideal conditions who is a problem we can't solve. He is nearly twenty-four years old, six feet tall, weighs 180 pounds, has perfect health. But he has no energy, no interest in anything and won't even try to amuse himself. He has always disliked school and made poor marks, though I sent him to various public and private schools thinking perhaps he would find a teacher who could interest him. Finding he would not take an education I got him a job, but he would not work. I tried to interest him in games, but he was bored by golf and baseball and so on. He won't even listen to the radio and is content to be supported and have an allowance of $5 a week. He isn't bad minded, doesn't drink, or get into any mischief. His only fault is that he will not tell the truth. My wife tells me she will support me in any way I deem best in dealing with my boy, but by all means talk back to them, reminding them of the many kind deeds I have done for them when they were little. A PUZZLED FATHER.

Answer—Evidently your son is not normal, otherwise he would at least be interested in amusing himself. It is a case for physicians and psychiatrists. Perhaps they can find out what ails him and correct it, or perhaps you will have to reconcile yourself to the fact that he is one of those unfortunate who will always be little boys and who will never be able to assume the responsibilities of a man or do the work of a man in the world.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have two married children who have children. I have made a good job of raising my own children and they are all right, except for one thing. They resent advice as to how to feed their children, saying that I am a "back number" and don't know about children's diets. Should I take all of this abuse or should I talk back to them, reminding them of the many kind deeds I have done for them when they were little. A DISAPPOINTED MOTHER.

Answer—I am afraid there is nothing you can do about it except let your children rear their children in their own way. That's the way you did your own, you know. Remember you didn't take very kindly to your mother's advice on the subject. She didn't know about vitamins then and nobody dreamed that a baby's salvation depended on its eating spinach. Uncle Wiggily's Wife Finds Tie

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Wait a minute! Wait, my dear," called Uncle Wiggily to his wife as the rabbit lady started hopping very fast toward the woods. "Where are you going?" "Just where I told you a moment ago," she answered, flapping both ears at him to show she loved him. "I am going to find your lost necktie." "But you never can, my dear." "Yes I can, Wiggily. If I find that Tramp Dog necktie that I gave you for Christmas, I'll find your necktie." "Oh, dear," said Uncle Wiggily. "Now, don't worry," said Mrs. Longears, thinking her husband was afraid something would happen to her in the woods. "I can take care of myself. I'm not afraid of a Tramp Dog. Besides, you said he didn't try to bite you. He just chased you." "Yes, that's all he did," said Uncle Wiggily. "And it was while you were running away from the dog that you lost the nice Christmas tie I gave you, wasn't it, Wiggily?" "That's just how it happened." "Then, say no more and don't worry. I'll get your tie back from that Tramp Dog."

RETURNING TO THE WOODS Uncle Wiggily couldn't say any more and he didn't know what to do as he watched his wife hurry off into the woods where the Tramp Dog had chased him and where the necktie had fallen, to be picked up, very likely, by the dog. "I must do something about this," said the rabbit gentleman as he thought of the will take the tie away from him. That won't be so bad, though I thought I had seen the last of it, all colored like a fried egg that had fallen into the dirt pickles. My wife thought it was such a beautiful tie but I can't wear it. "And if she takes it away from that Tramp Dog he is sure to tell her the little trick we played, and he'll pretend to chase me and he'll drop off and he'll pick it up. Oh, dear. Such trouble!" "Uncle Wiggily decided the only thing he could do would be to hop to the woods by a different path than his wife had taken. "Perhaps I can find that Tramp Dog first," he thought. "Then I can get my necktie back, put it on (though I don't like it) and my wife will be satisfied. I'll do it!" Away to the woods hopped the bunny gentleman. All of a sudden he saw his wife and she saw him. "Why, Wiggily! What are you doing here?" "I came to help you look for my Christmas tie." "Just then, walking proudly through the woods, looking at the tie he held in one paw, they both saw the Tramp Dog. The Tramp Dog saw Uncle Wiggily and his wife and, being clever, guessed what had happened. "There is your lovely necktie, Mr. Longears. I saw you drop it in the woods some distance back. I ran after you with it but you were too fast for me. Here is your tie back." "Oh, thank you ever so much," said Uncle Wiggily, putting on the tie. "There," said Mrs. Longears. "I knew if I got after it the tie would be found. Thank you, Tramp Dog." "Pray do not mention it," he said with a low and polite bow, at the same time winking one eye at Mr. Longears. "So the bunny gentleman had his tie back. And if the hand crane monkey will stop picking rubber heels off the shoe tree I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the red feather." METROPOLITAN Y.P.S. At the regular meeting of the Metropolitan Y.P. Society Austin Curtis, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, gave a very explicit and detailed account of the Queen Mary. His descriptions were suitably illustrated by exclusive photographs and an interesting discussion followed the address. In the devotional theme, entitled "Y.P. Work and Christian Fellowship," the spiritual purpose behind all worship services was stressed and a more active participation on the part of members urged. M. Hope was in charge and Audrey Blair read the Scriptures. Group meetings followed. It was announced that the next meeting will be a Halloween masquerade. Pumpkin pie and coffee will be served at a nominal charge.
